94TH ANNUAL HONORS CONVOCATION

March 19, 2017 | 2:00 p.m.

This year marks the 94th Honors Convocation held at the University of Michigan since the first was instituted on May 13, 1924, by President Marion LeRoy Burton. On these occasions the University publicly recognizes and commends the undergraduate students in its schools and colleges who have earned distinguished academic records or have excelled as leaders in the community. It is with great pride that the University honors those students who have most clearly and effectively demonstrated academic excellence, dynamic leadership, and inspirational volunteerism. The Honors Convocation ranks with the Commencement Exercises among the most important ceremonies of the University year.

The names of the students who are honored for outstanding achievement this year appear in this program. They include all students who have earned University Honors in both Winter 2016 and Fall 2016, plus all seniors who have earned University Honors in either Winter 2016 or Fall 2016. The William J. Branstrom Freshman Prize recipients are listed, as well—recognizing first year undergraduate students whose academic achievement during their first semester on campus place them in the upper five percent of their school or college class. James B. Angell Scholars—students who receive all “A” grades over consecutive terms—are given a special place in the program. In addition, the student speaker is recognized individually for exemplary contributions to the University community.

To all honored students, and to their parents, the University extends its hearty congratulations.

Paul N. Courant • Interim Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs

Honored Students
Honored Faculty
Faculty Colleagues and Friends of the University

It is a pleasure to welcome you to the 94th University of Michigan Honors Convocation. On behalf of the academic leaders on the Ann Arbor, Dearborn, and Flint campuses, I thank you for joining us today.

The University of Michigan was founded in 1817 in Detroit. As we celebrate this bicentennial year, we take special note of the Honors Convocation as an important University tradition that recognizes and celebrates the outstanding academic achievements of undergraduate students from all three of our campuses.

Today we honor students who exemplify academic excellence, committed and creative leadership, and thoughtful service — all core values of the University. These students have demonstrated a passion for learning — challenging themselves, and their teachers, with tough questions and innovative ideas that stretch the boundaries of knowledge and open new pathways for exploration.

The University's mission statement includes our commitment to "developing leaders who will challenge the present and enrich the future." The students we honor today give life to that commitment through their purposeful engagement with the world.

Today we also honor a group of distinguished faculty members who have joined us for this ceremony. Recently recognized by the University for their outstanding teaching and scholarship, they represent the many individuals in our community who inspire, challenge, and support our students. With our students, they demonstrate every day that learning and teaching are among life's great joys.

As we congratulate our students, we also recognize, with deep appreciation, the parents, family members, and friends who have nurtured and supported these remarkable students. The University of Michigan shares the pride you feel in their accomplishments. With you, we look forward to the contributions they will make to the future.

Congratulations and welcome!

Paul N. Courant

ORDER OF EXERCISES

“The Role of the University in Promoting Open-Mindedness”

This theme is intended to prompt discussion about how places of higher education have a responsibility to create opportunities for their students, faculty and staff to become more thoughtful and ideologically mobile with the multiple perspectives present on their campus.

We would like to thank Melody Racine, Senior Associate Dean for Academic, Faculty and Student Affairs, and Associate Professor of Voice in the School of Music, Theatre & Dance for her expert assistance in choosing the student soloists for our ceremony.

HONORS CONVOCATION SPEAKERS

Alexander Kime

Senior, College of Literature, Science, and the Arts
Three Term James B. Angell Scholar
University Honors

Alexander Kime, a senior from Ann Arbor, Michigan, is majoring in creative writing and literature in the Residential College and Honors Program in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts. He has a double minor in community action and social change through the School of Social Work and intergroup relations education through the Program on Intergroup Relations.

A three-term James B. Angell Scholar, University Honors student, and Ann Arbor native, Alex coordinates poetry workshops for teens at Ann Arbor's Neutral Zone and facilitates identity-based dialogues and workshops for U-M's Program on Intergroup Relations (IGR), the Educational Theatre Company, and other organizations. Last summer, as a social justice fellow in IGR's Summer Youth Dialogues on Race and Ethnicity program, he facilitated conversations and workshops with youth from different racial and ethnic backgrounds around structural oppression and taking action. He also led an Honors Program mini-course analyzing social identity narratives in the arts. He received the 2015 Jeffrey L. Weisberg Memorial Prize in Poetry and was a 2017 Martin Luther King Jr. Spirit Award finalist. This fall, he will transition into U-M's Master of Social Work program with a concentration in social policy and evaluation and community organizing.

Elizabeth S. Anderson

John Dewey Distinguished University Professor of Philosophy and Women's Studies
Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Professor of Philosophy and Women's Studies
Chair, Department of Philosophy
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Professor Anderson, a University of Michigan faculty member since 1987, was named a Thurnau Professor in 2004 in recognition of her outstanding teaching and mentoring and steadfast support for undergraduate research. She earned a bachelor's degree in philosophy with a minor in economics with high honors from Swarthmore College and a master's degree and doctorate in philosophy from Harvard University. Professor Anderson's pioneering scholarship has set the agenda in such diverse areas as egalitarian political theory, democratic theory, feminist and social epistemology, and the philosophy of economics and race. Her first book, Value in Ethics and Economics (1993), applies a new theory of value to such controversial topics as commercial surrogate motherhood. Her second book, The Imperative of Integration (2010), which won the American Philosophical Association's Joseph B. Gittler Award, draws upon philosophy, the social sciences, and law to defend a revitalized ideal of racial integration. Professor Anderson's current projects include a history of egalitarianism from the mid-1600s to the present, and a study of moral learning in the history of abolition and emancipation. She has published more than 60 papers in top philosophy, law, and interdisciplinary journals, which have been reprinted more than 50 times. Professor Anderson, a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, has been recognized with the LSA Excellence in Education Award and the John H. D'Arms Award for Distinguished Mentoring. Through her teaching, other intellectual endeavors, and example, Professor Anderson inspires students to contemplate and seek to answer life's most important questions.

RHODES, MARSHALL, AND CHURCHILL SCHOLARSHIPS

Rhodes, Marshall, and Churchill Scholarships are among the world's most prestigious academic awards for graduate students. Since the estate of British philanthropist Cecil John Rhodes established Rhodes Scholarships in 1904, 27 University of Michigan alumni have studied as Rhodes Scholars at Oxford University. Thirty-two Americans are named Rhodes Scholars each year.

Marshall Scholarships, founded by an Act of Parliament in 1953, finance opportunities for young American scholars of high ability to study in the United Kingdom. The scholarship commemorates the humane ideals of the European Recovery Program (Marshall Plan) and funds one or two years of study. Forty Marshall Scholarships are awarded annually to American students who demonstrate potential to excel as scholars, as leaders and as contributors to improved UK-US understanding.

The Churchill Scholarship started in 1963 with three awards and has since grown to 14. It provides funding to American students for a year of Master's study in science, mathematics, and engineering at the University of Cambridge, based at Churchill College. The Scholarship was set up at the request of Sir Winston Churchill in order to fulfil his vision of US-UK scientific exchange with the goal of advancing science and technology on both sides of the Atlantic, helping to ensure our future prosperity and security. The Churchill Scholarship has been called the most academically challenging of the UK scholarships. In total, thirteen students from Michigan have now been named Churchill Scholars.

We proudly recognize the following students who were endorsed by the University of Michigan this year:

Callie Chappell College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Rhodes Finalist
Brendan Heiden University of Michigan Medical School	Rhodes Nominee
James Lawniczak College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Churchill Alternate

RAOUL WALLENBERG FELLOWSHIP

Inspired by the spirit of Raoul Wallenberg, the Wallenberg Fellowship is awarded in the spring of each year to a graduating senior of exceptional promise and accomplishment who is committed to service and the public good. The fellowship provides $25,000 to carry out an independent project of learning or exploration anywhere in the world during the year after graduation. The Fellow will engage in a self-designed and self-directed area of exploration or project of experiential learning. Through an active and immersive year-long experience, and by connecting in meaningful ways with the lives of other people and communities, the Wallenberg Fellow will prepare to make a difference in the world.

The Fellowship honors Raoul Wallenberg (B.S. Arch. '35), one of the most illustrious graduates of the University of Michigan. At U-M, Wallenberg was recognized for the excellence of his academic work, his eagerness for knowledge of the world and for understanding others, and for his intrepid independence and resourcefulness. He left Ann Arbor resolved to be actively engaged in life. Ten years later, as a Swedish diplomat during World War II, Wallenberg coordinated the rescue of tens of thousands of Jews in Budapest. He disappeared after he was arrested by Soviet authorities. One of the great heroes of the 20th century, Raoul Wallenberg shows that even under the most daunting circumstances, one person can make a difference.

The University of Michigan would like to express its deep appreciation to U-M parents Jon and Lili Bosse and U-M alumnus Bert Askwith (BA 1931). Jon and Lilli Bosse's generous gift initiated the Wallenberg Fellowship in 2013. In 2014, Bert Askwith generously created the Mary Sue Coleman Endowed Fund for the Raoul Wallenberg Fellowship to support future generations of Michigan students who are inspired by Wallenberg's legacy, and to honor President Coleman's leadership during her tenure at U-M.

The 2017-18 Raoul Wallenberg Fellowship recipient and finalist are:

2017 THURNAU PROFESSORS

The Thurnau Professorships were established in 1988 to recognize and reward faculty for outstanding contributions to undergraduate education. The professorships honor tenured faculty members who, through their commitment and investment in undergraduate teaching, have had a positive impact on the intellectual development and lives of students.

Arthur F. Thurnau, for whom the Thurnau Professorship is named, attended the University of Michigan from fall of 1902 until spring of 1904. He studied a liberal arts curriculum, but he did not graduate. This was not uncommon for the time, and although his three brothers also attended the University of Michigan, only one of them graduated. In his two years here, Arthur completed 58 credits of French, German, history, English, rhetoric, politics, and economics. He also was a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity and sang in the Freshmen Glee Club.

Arthur later returned to Chicago, and worked as an “ad man,” selling advertising space in various magazines and newspapers. In this role, he eventually rose to the position of vice president and western manager for the firm Paul Block, Inc. He was actively involved in U-M alumni events in Chicago, even trying to arrange a football game between the Wolverines and the University of Chicago Maroons during that period of time when Chicago was part of the Big Ten Conference and Michigan was not. He also put his organizational talents to work during World War II by creating events to encourage the sale of government bonds.

Arthur Thurnau’s generosity to the University of Michigan began in 1966, and continued through the rest of his life. Upon his death in 1979, his estate created the Thurnau Charitable Trust to support the University of Michigan. Since 1988, these funds have been used to support the Thurnau Professorships. Thurnau Professors receive $20,000 grants to support activities that enhance teaching. It is this important recognition for faculty that Arthur F. Thurnau so generously provided for and that the University of Michigan celebrates. The University is pleased to recognize this year’s Thurnau Professors.

Evelyn A. Alsultany

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Associate Professor of American Culture
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Professor Alsultany's classroom is a space where differences are productively explored by grappling with nuanced scholarship and critical conversations. Her commitment to inclusion makes her a university leader in discussions about the role of race and religion on and off campus. Students consider her classes essential to their own development as students and citizens. As one student writes, "She has a way of making every student feel seen. She does all of the subtle things right." Professor Alsultany advises several student and social justice groups, and she launched an internship program in American Culture that allows students to gain practical experiences for their future careers while also serving their communities. In her department and across the campus, she is called upon to share her knowledge and skills around teaching, from coaching junior faculty and GSIs to lending her expertise to the Islamophobia Working Group. Created by Professor Alsultany, this growing alliance of faculty, staff, and students works to improve campus climate for students targeted by anti-Arab and anti-Muslim sentiments, and it provides support, resources, and guidance for building inclusive classrooms and policies university-wide. One colleague remarks that Professor Alsultany builds her professional life as teacher and mentor "not for acclaim or reward, but because she knows that our students are able to positively impact their own communities even more when they have the support of people like her behind them."

Valeria M. Bertacco

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Professor of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science
College of Engineering

Professor Bertacco has made it her mission to improve the undergraduate educational experience of her students. In the field of computer science, where courses routinely enroll up to 500 students, Professor Bertacco embraces a personal touch and creates an interactive classroom environment. She incorporates live, in-class quizzes to gather real-time data on how students are understanding lecture concepts, and she also meets with each student personally at the beginning of the course. Her extremely high evaluations in large lecture courses speak to students' appreciation of her ability to make the class accessible and inclusive, as well as her efforts to connect course content to real-world problems drawn from her time in industry. Professor Bertacco's impact reaches far beyond the classroom. She advises and mentors the Girls in EECS group, a longstanding undergraduate organization, providing support and inspiration for women interested in becoming computer scientists and engineers. With funding from U-M's Transforming Learning for a Third Century initiative, Professor Bertacco's project "Computing Cares" works to improve retention of female undergraduate students in computer science: she incorporates material on unconscious biases in the workforce into her courses, and she has worked at the departmental level to encourage inclusive hiring practices for undergraduate instructional aides. Through her service and her teaching, she has, as one colleague writes, "impacted not only all the students in her class, but also most of the students taking any of the intro-level computer science courses at the University of Michigan."

Deborah E. Goldberg

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Professor of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

A committed, engaged, and innovative teacher, Professor Goldberg has had a tremendous impact on her students and on undergraduate education at U-M more broadly. Her students speak of her exceptionally welcoming and open classes, where students of all backgrounds are encouraged to seek opportunities in research labs and internships to further their understanding of the field. Reaching far beyond her own classroom, Professor Goldberg has played a leadership role in the M-Bio and M-STEM initiatives, designed to recruit and retain a diverse student body in the sciences. One colleague describes her role in these programs as “a visionary effort that will continue to pay educational dividends for years to come.” Highly respected as a reformer of STEM education in her department, in LSA and at the university more broadly, she has “the ability to generate the deep reserves of energy, drive, focus, and perseverance required to reach a successful outcome.” Another example of the institutional impact of her leadership is “Authentic Research Connections.” Funded by the National Science Foundation, this program gives undergraduate students in introductory courses experience in undertaking real, publishable research. It also generates large pools of data for faculty, thus creating a mutually beneficial and innovative learning environment. As one colleague summarizes, Professor Goldberg’s efforts, from her service to her classroom, work together “to enhance the undergraduate educational experience in biology and other natural sciences and to attract and retain a more diverse student cohort.”

Mark B. Moldwin

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Professor of Climate and Space Sciences and Engineering
College of Engineering

Professor Moldwin’s career-long commitment to undergraduate education is evidenced by multiple awards for his excellent and innovative teaching, as well as his influence on the larger community of teachers and students in the College of Engineering. All tout his outstanding work as a mentor and supervisor to undergraduate students, and he regularly uses active learning strategies to create a small-class environment in his large lectures. This includes his development of “Dorm Room Labs,” a set of low-cost or free labs that students do as homework, adding a hands-on component to classes without a traditional lab. As one student wrote, “As a scientist, teacher, mentor, or entrepreneur, he is constantly willing both to engage and be engaged.” Professor Moldwin has demonstrated a deep commitment to expanding opportunities for underrepresented populations in science, including a collaboration with the School of Education to prepare U-M pre-service science teachers to work in underserved urban schools. He similarly developed a summer international research experience with the South African National Space Agency that encourages U-M students to become culturally competent engineers. Professor Moldwin’s impact on undergraduate education extends beyond his own classroom and students. As the chair of the department’s curriculum committee, he led the development of two new degree programs, and he shares his creativity and passion for teaching with colleagues as a frequent presenter and panelist in pedagogy workshops. As one colleague writes, “Professor Moldwin’s commitment to undergraduate education is exemplary and his impact on undergraduate students is long and lasting.”

J. Logan Skelton

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Professor of Music
School of Music, Theatre & Dance

Professor Skelton's students stand out as "intellectually sophisticated, because he challenges their minds as well as their fingers." His remarkable record of teaching awards, and the equally impressive roster of awards won by his students, are evidence of what one student lauds as "an ability to mold his approach to the needs of each individual student, for his or her particular needs at any moment." Through innovative and inclusive teaching methods, Professor Skelton has welcomed a diverse range of students into his piano performance studio, "partnering with them in the educational enterprise from the positive perspective of ability, and not of disability," as one colleague describes. Students are quick to praise his support and mentorship, from his efforts to develop and include undergraduates in professional and performance opportunities on campus and internationally, to the thoughtful guidance and extremely practical career help he provides as students transition to their lives as professional musicians. Professor Skelton's service to the School of Music, Theater & Dance includes overhauling and teaching the piano literature courses that form the basis of the curriculum today, and actively recruiting a diverse range of students at the undergraduate level. One student says that Professor Skelton sets out "to give students the freedom to be their own artists, and to express the inherent beauty that music allows," and this speaks to a commitment to supporting creativity and individuality that underpins all of his many accomplishments."

Donald R. Zak

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Burton V. Barnes Collegiate Professor
Professor of Natural Resources
School of Natural Resources and Environment
Professor of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Professor Zak turns traditional classrooms, the lab, and the field alike into unforgettable educational opportunities with his "amazing talent for designing field learning experiences that challenge students with their complexity - but do not frustrate students with their open-endedness." Students describe how his introductions of complex issues ignite student curiosity and agency and inspire them to learn more. He regularly mixes students of diverse backgrounds and abilities, structuring small group work to empower them in supportive classroom environments, where Professor Zak "treated us all as students who were equally capable of excelling." Undergraduates regularly go on from his classes to pursue careers and graduate school in ecology, and they speak eloquently about his mentorship lasting far beyond final course grades to include time in his research labs, trips to conferences, and advice on their professional dossiers. In his current role as associate dean in the School of Natural Resources and the Environment, Professor Zak extends this care to the undergraduate population at large, with one colleague saying "his efforts and decisions are always justified and prioritized in terms of what is best for our students." Integrating his own award-winning teaching practice into his work on curricular design and coaching junior faculty on their teaching and mentorship, Professor Zak models how service can extend the efforts of one extraordinary teacher to a department and school at large.

ACADEMIC DRESS AND CUSTOM

The colorful gowns and hoods worn by faculty members at commencement and other academic ceremonies represent the degrees, disciplines, and alma maters of the wearers. The American academic costume tradition, imported from England, dates to Colonial days.

Gowns

Bachelor's or master's degree gowns traditionally are black, as are many doctoral gowns in the United States. Some universities prescribe that their graduates wear gowns of another solid color such as blue, crimson, or green. Gowns differ in sleeve cut and trim. For example, the bachelor's gown has long, pointed sleeves while the master's gown has oblong sleeves. Doctoral gowns, with their distinctive bell-shaped sleeves, feature velvet panels down the front and around the neck, as well as crossbars of velvet on the sleeves. Colored trim denotes the field or discipline in which the degree was earned. Usually only a single degree from one institution is indicated by a garment. If more than one degree is held, the gown and hood of the higher or highest degree usually are worn.

Hoods

The hood most precisely describes the wearer's level of degree earned, the major field of learning, and the alma mater. The level of the degree held is indicated by the hood's shape and size and the width of its velvet or velveteen trimming. The bachelor's, master's, and doctor's hoods are 36 inches, 42 inches, and 48 inches long, respectively. The velvet trim is two, three, and five inches wide, with the narrowest being for the bachelor's hood and the widest for the doctor's hood. The color of trim on the hood, as on the gown, identifies the major field of learning in which the degree was awarded. The hood is lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree.

Caps

Caps vary in style from the traditional black mortarboard to eight-, six-, and four-corner tams, and Elizabethan-style caps. The mortarboard may be of any appropriate material, such as cotton, poplin, rayon, or silk, to match the gown. Velvet is reserved for holders of doctorates.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The University's mace, a symbol of authority, is carried at the head of academic processions on such important ceremonial occasions as commencements, convocations, and inaugurations. The mace being used today was given to the University in 1968 by the Senior Board, representing all the undergraduate schools and colleges. Crafted of red oak and trimmed with silver, the mace features the seals of the University and of the State of Michigan. Also engraved on the mace are the names of the University Presidents.

JAMES B. ANGELL SCHOLARS

Students who achieve an “A” record (all grades of A+, A, or A-) for two or more consecutive terms are recognized as James B. Angell Scholars. The student must have taken a minimum of 14 credit hours each term, including at least 12 credits elected on a graded (A-E) basis.

UNIVERSITY HONORS

The University Honors designation is awarded to students who earned a 3.5 grade point average or higher during a term. The student must have taken a minimum of 14 credit hours during the term, including at least 12 credits elected on a graded (A-E) basis. Students who achieve University Honors designation for both the winter 2016 term and fall 2016 term are recognized at Honors Convocation. Seniors who achieve University Honors for at least one of these two terms are recognized at Honors Convocation.

STATEMENT ON FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND ARTISTIC EXPRESSION

Thank you for attending this program. The University of Michigan strives to create a truly open forum, one in which diverse opinions can be expressed and heard.

It is the right of members of the University community, speakers, artists, and other invited guests to express their views and opinions at the University. We will protect the right of individuals to speak or perform, and the rights of those members of the University community who wish to hear and communicate with an invited speaker or artist.

Protesters also have a right to express their opposition to a speaker in appropriate ways, both within the confines of this building and outside the facility. However, protesters must not interfere unduly with communication between a speaker or artist and members of the audience.

If the hosts of this event or University representatives believe that protesters are interfering unduly with a speaker or performer's freedom of expression, those protesters will be warned. If the warnings are not heeded and the interference continues, then the individuals responsible may be removed from the building.

We reaffirm these policies in order to most fully protect the rights of free expression for speakers, performers, and protesters alike, as set forth by our Civil Liberties Board in our Student Handbook, and in accordance with the U-M Standard Practice Guide; Regents' Ordinance Article XII, Section 1; and state statutes.

NONDISCRIMINATION POLICY

The University of Michigan, as an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination and affirmative action. The University of Michigan is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all persons and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, religion, height, weight, or veteran status in employment, educational programs and activities, and admissions. Inquiries or complaints may be addressed to the Senior Director for Institutional Equity, and Title IX/Section 504/ADA Coordinator, Office for Institutional Equity, 2072 Administrative Services Building, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48109-1432, 734-763-0235, TTY 734-647-1388, institutional.equity@umich.edu. For other University of Michigan information call 734-764-1817.

THE YELLOW AND BLUE

Sing to the colors that float in the light;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!

Yellow the stars as they ride thro' the night,
And reel in a rollicking crew;

Yellow the fields where ripens the grain,
And Yellow the moon on the harvest wain;

Hail!

Hail to the colors that float in the light;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!
