

95TH ANNUAL HONORS CONVOCATION

MARCH 18, 2018

2:00 P.M.

HILL AUDITORIUM

This year marks the 95th Honors Convocation held at the University of Michigan since the first was instituted on May 13, 1924, by President Marion LeRoy Burton. On these occasions, the University publicly recognizes and commends the undergraduate students in its schools and colleges who have earned distinguished academic records or have excelled as leaders in the community. It is with great pride that the University honors those students who have most clearly and effectively demonstrated academic excellence, dynamic leadership, and inspirational volunteerism. The Honors Convocation ranks with the Commencement Exercises as among the most important ceremonies of the University year.

The names of the students who are honored for outstanding achievement this year appear in this program. They include all students who have earned University Honors in both Winter 2017 and Fall 2017, plus all seniors who have earned University Honors in either Winter 2017 or Fall 2017. The William J. Branstrom Freshman Prize recipients are listed, as well—recognizing first year undergraduate students whose academic achievement during their first semester on campus place them in the upper five percent of their school or college class. James B. Angell Scholars—students who receive all “A” grades over consecutive terms—are given a special place in the program. In addition, the student speaker is recognized individually for exemplary contributions to the University community.

To all honored students, and to their parents, the University extends its hearty congratulations.

Martin A. Philbert • Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs

Honored Students
Honored Faculty
Faculty Colleagues and Friends of the University

It is a pleasure to welcome you to the 95th University of Michigan Honors Convocation.

On behalf of the academic leaders on the Ann Arbor, Dearborn, and Flint campuses, I thank you for joining us today.

The Honors Convocation is an important University tradition that recognizes and celebrates the outstanding academic achievements of undergraduate students from all three of our campuses.

Today we proudly recognize students whose deep learning and dedication to inquiry have led them to outstanding academic accomplishment. These students have a passion for learning; a willingness to challenge themselves, to question orthodoxy, and to seek new solutions to challenging problems. They exemplify what we mean by “the leaders and best.”

The University’s mission statement includes our commitment to “developing leaders who will challenge the present and enrich the future.” The students we are honoring give life to that commitment through their purposeful engagement with the world.

Today we also honor a group of distinguished faculty members who have joined us for this ceremony. Recently recognized by the University for their outstanding teaching and scholarship, they represent the many individuals in our community who inspire, challenge, and support our students.

As we congratulate our students, we also recognize, with deep appreciation, the parents, family members, and friends who have nurtured and supported these remarkable students. The University of Michigan shares the pride you feel in their accomplishments. With you, we look forward to the contributions they will make to the future.

Congratulations and Welcome!

Martin A. Philbert
Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs

ORDER OF EXERCISES

"What Does It Mean to Be Free in a World Such as Ours?"

How does the desire for freedom intersect with civil and human rights, the pursuit of truth, and efforts to address pressing national and global problems? What roles might individuals, collectives, universities, and broader social movements play in the pursuit of freedom in today's world?

HONORS CONVOCATION SPEAKERS

Anushka Sarkar

Senior, College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Anushka Sarkar, a senior from West Bloomfield, is majoring in political science and minoring in law and policy in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts.

As Central Student Government student body president, Anushka leads a student body of 45,000, manages an $800,000 budget, and gives voice to students' priorities and concerns to the University administration and regents. Among other initiatives, she has advocated for affordable health care for students, stronger punitive measures for perpetrators of hate crimes, and a nighttime student-run ride-sharing service. She founded and chaired the Wolverine Consulting Group, which helps student groups with leadership development, fundraising, and other organizational functions. She served on U-M's Edward Ginsberg Center Student Advisory Board and interned at the Washington, D.C.-based public relations and government affairs firm Dewey Square Group, where she contributed to messaging campaigns for businesses and political organizations. She worked with Hillary Clinton's presidential campaign, both as an assistant to the deputy national finance director and as an intern in the Hillary for America headquarters in New York. Following graduation, she plans to travel and live spontaneously, work on a 2020 presidential campaign, and then enroll in law school.

Deborah Loewenberg Ball

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor

William H. Payne Collegiate Professor of Education

School of Education

Research Professor, Survey Research Center

Institute for Social Research

Professor Ball, a University of Michigan faculty member since 1996, was named a Thurnau Professor in 2000 in recognition of her contributions to research on teaching and teacher education. She holds three degrees from Michigan State University: a bachelor's degree with highest honors in French and elementary education, a master's in teacher education, and a doctorate in curriculum, teaching, and education policy. She taught elementary school for more than 15 years and continues to teach mathematics to elementary students each summer. She served as dean of the School of Education from 2005 to 2016 and has directed TeachingWorks, a national organization dedicated to improving the quality of beginning teaching, since 2011. Professor Ball has authored or co-authored more than 150 scholarly publications and has also developed distinctive collections of video records of practice that are broadly used to study the work of teaching. She is a fellow and current president of the American Educational Research Association, a fellow of the American Mathematical Society, and a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the National Academy of Education, and the National Science Board. She also serves on the Mathematical Science Research Institute Board of Trustees. The American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education presented her the Edward Pomeroy Award for Outstanding Contributions to Teacher Education in 2014, and, in 2017, she received the International Mathematics Union Felix Klein Medal for lifetime achievement in mathematics education research.

RHODES, MARSHALL, AND CHURCHILL SCHOLARSHIPS

Rhodes, Marshall, and Churchill Scholarships are among the world's most prestigious academic awards for graduate students. Since the estate of British philanthropist Cecil John Rhodes established Rhodes Scholarships in 1904, 27 University of Michigan alumni have studied as Rhodes Scholars at Oxford University. Thirty-two Americans are named Rhodes Scholars each year.

Marshall Scholarships, founded by an Act of Parliament in 1953, finance opportunities for young American scholars of high ability to study in the United Kingdom. The scholarship commemorates the humane ideals of the European Recovery Program (Marshall Plan) and funds one or two years of study. Thirty-one Marshall Scholarships are awarded annually to American students who demonstrate potential to excel as scholars, as leaders, and as contributors to improved UK-US understanding.

The Churchill Scholarship started in 1963 with three awards and has since grown to 14. It provides funding to American students for a year of Master's study in science, mathematics, and engineering at the University of Cambridge, based at Churchill College. The scholarship was set up at the request of Sir Winston Churchill in order to fulfill his vision of US-UK scientific exchange with the goal of advancing science and technology on both sides of the Atlantic, helping to ensure our future prosperity and security. The Churchill Scholarship has been called the most academically challenging of the UK scholarships. In total, 13 students from Michigan have now been named Churchill Scholars.

We proudly recognize the following students who were endorsed by the University of Michigan this year:

Nadine Jawad Rhodes Recipient

Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy

Yiran Liu Rhodes Finalist

RAOUL WALLENBERG FELLOWSHIP

Inspired by the spirit of Raoul Wallenberg, the Wallenberg Fellowship is awarded in the spring of each year to a graduating senior of exceptional promise and accomplishment who is committed to service and the public good. The fellowship provides $25,000 to carry out an independent project of learning or exploration anywhere in the world during the year after graduation. The Fellow will engage in a self-designed and self-directed area of exploration or project of experiential learning. Through an active and immersive year-long experience, and by connecting in meaningful ways with the lives of other people and communities, the Wallenberg Fellow will prepare to make a difference in the world.

The Fellowship honors Raoul Wallenberg (B.S.Arch. '35), one of the most illustrious graduates of the University of Michigan. At U-M, Wallenberg was recognized for the excellence of his academic work, his eagerness for knowledge of the world and for understanding others, and for his intrepid independence and resourcefulness. He left Ann Arbor resolved to be actively engaged in life. Ten years later, as a Swedish diplomat during World War II, Wallenberg coordinated the rescue of tens of thousands of Jews in Budapest, Hungary. He disappeared after he was arrested by Soviet authorities. One of the great heroes of the 20th century, Raoul Wallenberg shows that even under the most daunting circumstances, one person can make a difference.

The University of Michigan would like to express its deep appreciation to U-M parents Jon and Lili Bosse and U-M alumnus Bert Askwith (B.A. '31). Jon and Lilli Bosse's generous gift initiated the Wallenberg Fellowship in 2013. In 2014, Bert Askwith generously created the Mary Sue Coleman Endowed Fund for the Raoul Wallenberg Fellowship to support future generations of Michigan students who are inspired by Wallenberg's legacy, and to honor President Coleman's leadership during her tenure at U-M.

The Raoul Wallenberg Fellowship recipient and finalist this year are:

Meagan Malm Wallenberg Recipient

Stephen M. Ross School of Business

Faith Cole Wallenberg Finalist

College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

2018 THURNAU PROFESSORS

The Thurnau Professorships were established in 1988 to recognize and reward faculty for outstanding contributions to undergraduate education. The professorships honor tenured faculty members who, through their commitment and investment in undergraduate teaching, have had a positive impact on the intellectual development and lives of students.

Arthur F. Thurnau, for whom the Thurnau Professorship is named, attended the University of Michigan from fall of 1902 until spring of 1904. He studied a liberal arts curriculum, but he did not graduate. This was not uncommon for the time, and although his three brothers also attended the University of Michigan, only one of them graduated. In his two years here, Arthur completed 58 credits of French, German, history, English, rhetoric, politics, and economics. He also was a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity and sang in the Freshmen Glee Club.

Arthur later returned to Chicago, and worked as an “ad man,” selling advertising space in various magazines and newspapers. In this role, he eventually rose to the position of vice president and western manager for the firm Paul Block, Inc. He was actively involved in U-M alumni events in Chicago, even trying to arrange a football game between the Wolverines and the University of Chicago Maroons during that period of time when Chicago was part of the Big Ten Conference and Michigan was not. He also put his organizational talents to work during World War II by creating events to encourage the sale of government bonds.

Arthur Thurnau’s generosity to the University of Michigan began in 1966, and continued through the rest of his life. Upon his death in 1979, his estate created the Thurnau Charitable Trust to support the University of Michigan. Since 1988, these funds have been used to support the Thurnau Professorships. Thurnau Professors receive $20,000 grants to support activities that enhance teaching. It is this important recognition for faculty that Arthur F. Thurnau so generously provided for and that the University of Michigan celebrates. The University is pleased to recognize this year’s Thurnau Professors.

Eric F. Bell

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Professor of Astronomy
Professor in the Honors Program
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Professor Bell is a remarkable undergraduate instructor in his own classrooms and a leader in educational innovation at the department and college level. His achievements with large courses such as "Introduction to Astronomy," "Aliens," and "From the Big Bang to the Milky Way" demonstrate the impact of his creative approach to teaching. He has successfully embedded active, team-based, collaborative work into these courses in a way that has led to greater learning gains for all students, including those typically underrepresented in STEM. Furthermore, he spearheaded department-wide use of concept inventories in introductory courses that provide a standardized view of what students learn, and this data informs faculty as they revise curricula. A colleague notes that around 2011 he began translating his skills with big astrophysics data sets to the realm of learning analytics, not only "discovering important patterns in student performances in large courses, but helping to inspire and train other faculty members." Beyond astronomy, Professor Bell has played an active role in several U-M initiatives dedicated to identifying and encouraging the broader use of pedagogies that help students from a wide range of backgrounds to succeed. His inclusive practices extend to his lab, where over the last eight years he has mentored 30 undergraduate students, a far greater number than faculty typically undertake. His chair calls him "a true pioneer in making this natural science accessible to the many students who love our field."

Jason P. De León

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Associate Professor of Anthropology
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Widely recognized as an outstanding instructor of undergraduates, Professor De León is a master of the small seminar, the mid-level writing course, and the massive introductory course. In his "Introduction to Anthropology," roughly 400 students learn how to think about race and ethnicity in new ways, realizing that people have deployed these categories very differently across time and space. Faculty colleagues laud his unusually broad integration of archaeology, sociocultural anthropology, biological anthropology, and linguistics and consider him an ambassador for the discipline. "Professor De León pulls students into his thought process and teaches them how to redefine problems and solve them in unexpected ways," writes his chair. Dozens of undergraduate and graduate students learn how to analyze, curate, and preserve material remains in his lab, and he has collaborated even more closely with students in the Undergraduate Research Opportunity Program. Professor De León finds ways to make his students' personal passions part of his larger research goals, creating a vibrant community of students energized by each other's work and inspired to collaborate. Working on his Undocumented Migrant Project, students receive resources and support to develop their skills as writers and researchers, as well as opportunities to attend professional meetings, co-author papers, and install art exhibits. As one student writes, "It was always about more than just teaching for him. It was about helping students develop critical thinking tools in order to become fundamentally engaged citizens."

Jason P. McCormick

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor

Associate Professor of Civil and Environmental Engineering

College of Engineering

To show civil and environmental engineering students how structural systems are designed and how they can fail, Professor McCormick co-pioneered an entirely new approach. Students use virtual reality to visualize and interact with components from multiple angles in a 3-D lab, so they can “feel” how massive loads are carried down from structure to foundation. Students highly appreciate the advantages of more fully understanding design limitations as they embark on careers in industry. They have three times selected Professor McCormick for the American Society of Civil Engineers Student Chapter Faculty Award, and they have requested more use of such learning approaches in the curriculum. In addition to being a patient and accessible instructor, Professor McCormick devotes considerable energy to engaging with students as a faculty advisor to teams that compete in national competitions for earthquake engineering and steel bridge projects. Beyond technical expertise, his mentorship extends to teamwork and the cultivation of diverse new generations of young leaders. Under his guidance, the Steel Bridge team went from having no female members to women regularly “holding leadership roles in technical areas like design, fabrication, and project management,” wrote one student. His attention to developing an inclusive pipeline of talent extends from supervising undergraduate research students to outreach to local elementary and middle school populations, and his “How Much Will Your Bridge Hold?” workshop is the most popular part of the MConneX Xplore program for alumni that is hosted annually by the college.

Ellen H. Rowe

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor

Professor of Music

School of Music, Theatre & Dance

Recognized as an outstanding teacher in multiple settings, from private piano instruction to ensemble directing, Professor Rowe has fostered distinguished recording, performing, and teaching careers for numerous students. The first female chair of a major university jazz department in the world and one of the only female conductors of a top-ranked jazz ensemble, her commitment to making the performance, study, and teaching of jazz more inclusive and diverse has especially bolstered female students’ confidence and persistence in a largely male-dominated field. The dean lauds her “concrete and repeated steps to build a sense of teamwork, mutual support, and collegiality within the department.” Under Profesor Rowe’s guidance, U-M has recruited more female jazz students than any other comparable program in the nation due in large part to her tireless outreach efforts. These include a partnership with Detroit’s Carr Center; participation as a guest composer, arranger, conductor, and adjudicator at high school and college jazz festivals; and organization of a biannual tour by U-M Jazz Ensemble students who perform two to three concerts or clinics a day and visit communities and schools that normally cannot afford to invite guest teachers. Professor Rowe has also been an innovator at the curricular level. She developed six new courses and created a new Bachelor of Fine Arts degree – one of the first of a handful nationally – that enables students to major in jazz and gain teacher certification, considerably raising the bar for jazz training for public school music teachers.

ACADEMIC DRESS AND CUSTOM

The colorful gowns and hoods worn by faculty members at commencement and other academic ceremonies represent the degrees, disciplines, and alma maters of the wearers. The American academic costume tradition, imported from England, dates to Colonial days.

Gowns

Bachelor's or master's degree gowns traditionally are black, as are many doctoral gowns in the United States. Some universities prescribe that their graduates wear gowns of another solid color such as blue, crimson, or green. Gowns differ in sleeve cut and trim. For example, the bachelor's gown has long, pointed sleeves while the master's gown has oblong sleeves. Doctoral gowns, with their distinctive bell-shaped sleeves, feature velvet panels down the front and around the neck, as well as crossbars of velvet on the sleeves. Colored trim denotes the field or discipline in which the degree was earned. Usually only a single degree from one institution is indicated by a garment. If more than one degree is held, the gown and hood of the higher or highest degree usually are worn.

Hoods

The hood most precisely describes the wearer's level of degree earned, the major field of learning, and the alma mater. The level of the degree held is indicated by the hood's shape and size and the width of its velvet or velveteen trimming. The bachelor's, master's, and doctor's hoods are 36 inches, 42 inches, and 48 inches long, respectively. The velvet trim is two, three, and five inches wide, with the narrowest being for the bachelor's hood and the widest for the doctor's hood. The color of trim on the hood, as on the gown, identifies the major field of learning in which the degree was awarded. The hood is lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree.

Caps

Caps vary in style from the traditional black mortarboard to eight-, six-, and four-corner tams, and Elizabethan-style caps. The mortarboard may be of any appropriate material, such as cotton, poplin, rayon, or silk, to match the gown. Velvet is reserved for holders of doctorates.

The University's mace, a symbol of authority, is carried at the head of academic processions on such important ceremonial occasions as commencements, convocations, and inaugurations. The mace being used today was given to the University in 1968 by the Senior Board, representing all the undergraduate schools and colleges. Crafted of red oak and trimmed with silver, the mace features the seals of the University and of the State of Michigan. Also engraved on the mace are the names of the University Presidents.

Statement on Freedom of Speech and Artistic Expression

Thank you for attending this program. The University of Michigan strives to create a truly open forum, one in which diverse opinions can be expressed and heard.

It is the right of members of the University community, speakers, artists, and other invited guests to express their views and opinions at the University. We will protect the right of individuals to speak or perform, and the rights of those members of the University community who wish to hear and communicate with an invited speaker or artist.

Protesters also have a right to express their opposition to a speaker in appropriate ways, both within the confines of this building and outside the facility. However, protesters must not interfere unduly with communication between a speaker or artist and members of the audience.

If the hosts of this event or University representatives believe that protesters are interfering unduly with a speaker or performer's freedom of expression, those protesters will be warned. If the warnings are not heeded and the interference continues, then the individuals responsible may be removed from the building.

We reaffirm these policies in order to most fully protect the rights of free expression for speakers, performers, and protesters alike, as set forth by our Civil Liberties Board in our Student Handbook, and in accordance with the U-M Standard Practice Guide; Regents' Ordinance Article XII, Section 1; and state statutes.

Nondiscrimination Policy Statement

THE YELLOW AND BLUE

Sing to the colors that float in the light;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!

Yellow the stars as they ride thro' the night,
And reel in a rollicking crew;

Yellow the fields where ripens the grain,
And Yellow the moon on the harvest wain;

Hail!

Hail to the colors that float in the light;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!
