

98TH ANNUAL HONORS CONVOCATION

.....
MARCH 31, 2021

This year marks the 98th Honors Convocation held at the University of Michigan since the first was instituted on May 13, 1924, by President Marion LeRoy Burton. On these occasions, the University publicly recognizes and commends the undergraduate students in its schools and colleges who have earned distinguished academic records or have excelled as leaders in the community. It is with great pride that the University honors those students who have most clearly and effectively demonstrated academic excellence, dynamic leadership, and inspirational volunteerism. The Honors Convocation ranks with the Commencement Exercises as among the most important ceremonies of the University year.

The names of the students who are honored for outstanding achievement this year appear in this program. They include all students who have earned University Honors in both Winter 2020 and Fall 2020, plus all seniors who have earned University Honors in either Winter 2020 or Fall 2020. The William J. Branstrom Freshman Prize recipients are listed, as well – recognizing first year undergraduate students whose academic achievement during their first semester on campus place them in the upper five percent of their school or college class. James B. Angell Scholars — students who receive all “A” grades over consecutive terms — are given a special place in the program. In addition, the student speaker is recognized individually for exemplary contributions to the University community.

To all honored students, and to their parents, the University extends its hearty congratulations.

Susan M. Collins • Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs

Honored Students
Honored Faculty
Faculty Colleagues and Friends of the University

It is a pleasure to welcome you to the 98th University of Michigan Honors Convocation. On behalf of the academic leaders on the Ann Arbor, Dearborn, and Flint campuses, I thank you for joining us to honor our students.

The Honors Convocation is an important university tradition that recognizes and celebrates the outstanding academic achievements of undergraduate students from all three of our campuses.

We are proud to honor students who exemplify academic excellence. We recognize their intellectual curiosity and their dedication to thinking critically about the material they study. These students have demonstrated a passion for learning — challenging themselves, and their teachers, with tough questions and innovative ideas that stretch the boundaries of knowledge and open new pathways for exploration.

The University's mission statement includes our commitment to “developing leaders who will challenge the present and enrich the future.” The students we honor today give life to that commitment through their purposeful engagement with the world.

We are also pleased to honor a group of distinguished faculty members who have joined us for this ceremony. Recently recognized by the University for their outstanding teaching and scholarship, they represent the many individuals in our community who inspire, challenge, and support our students.

As we congratulate our students, we also recognize, with deep appreciation, the parents, family members, and friends who have nurtured and supported these impressive students. The University of Michigan shares the pride you feel in their accomplishments. With you, we look forward to the contributions they will make to the future.

Congratulations and Welcome!

Sincerely,

Susan M. Collins

We would like to thank Scott Piper, Norma L Heyde Faculty Development Professor of Voice and Associate Professor of Music, School of Music, Theatre & Dance, for his expert assistance in choosing the student soloist for our ceremony.

HONORS CONVOCATION SPEAKERS

Odessa Fung

Junior, Stephen M. Ross School of Business

Odessa Fung, a junior from Hong Kong and a James B. Angell Scholar, is majoring in business administration in the Stephen M. Ross School of Business with a minor in computer science in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts.

Odessa, vice president for incoming global talent for the youth-run not-for-profit AIESEC (International Association of Students in Economic and Commercial Sciences) at U-M, promotes cross-cultural understanding by facilitating student exchange and internship opportunities globally and helping international students acclimate to Michigan. As a first-year student, she was a member of Michigan Research and Discovery Scholars, a residential affiliate of the Undergraduate Research Opportunity Program, and worked as a research assistant in the Department of Psychology Dantzer Laboratory. She was first runner-up in the Ross FinTech Challenge. Her team pitched a bank-on-wheels solution to promote financial inclusion in rural Michigan. As a summer student business strategist in Calgary, Canada, she contributed to the city's Covid-19 response plans. This academic year, Odessa is living with her family in Calgary, taking classes online, and tutoring U-M student athletes in computer science and business courses. Odessa, who is fluent in Chinese and Mandarin, is the recipient of The American Chamber of Commerce Charitable Foundation Lyn Edinger U.S. Studies Scholarship (2018) and a U-M Paton Fellow Scholarship for Accounting. She is considering applying to graduate or law school and pursuing a career in business or public policy.

Carla O'Connor

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor

Distinguished University Diversity and Social Transformation Professor

Professor of Education

School of Education

Professor O'Connor, sociologist of education and University of Michigan faculty member since 1996, was named a Thurnau Professor in 2007 in recognition of her outstanding teaching and contributions to undergraduate education. She studies how racial identities are constructed within societal and organizational contexts and influence school experiences of children and adults. She was awarded the Distinguished University Diversity and Social Transformation Professorship in 2019 for her scholarly contributions and commitment to promoting equity and social justice. She holds a B.A. degree from Wesleyan University and an M.A. and Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. A founding member of the National Science Foundation-sponsored Center for the Study of Black Youth in Context, Professor O'Connor served as associate dean for academic affairs in the School of Education and chaired a task force that redesigned a course to better prepare pre-service teachers to work in a diverse society. She directs Wolverine Pathways, a partnership with students, families, and schools in several southeast Michigan communities that aims to increase the likelihood that promising students apply, attend, and graduate from U-M. Her research on resiliency among low-income and Black students has made her a sought after contributor to scholarly discussions on education and social justice. Professor O'Connor, co-editor of Beyond Acting White: Reframing the Debate on Black Student Achievement (2006), was the 2019 Wallace Foundation Distinguished Lecturer for the American Educational Research Association. Among other honors, she has received a Harold R. Johnson Diversity Service Award and U-M Faculty Career Development Award.

RHODES, MARSHALL, MITCHELL, AND CHURCHILL SCHOLARSHIPS

Rhodes, Marshall, Mitchell, and Churchill Scholarships are among the world's most prestigious academic awards for graduate students. Since the estate of British philanthropist Cecil John Rhodes established Rhodes Scholarships in 1904, 27 University of Michigan alumni have studied as Rhodes Scholars at Oxford University. Thirty-two Americans are named Rhodes Scholars each year.

Marshall Scholarships, founded by an Act of Parliament in 1953, finance opportunities for young American scholars of high ability to study in the United Kingdom. The scholarship commemorates the humane ideals of the European Recovery Program (Marshall Plan) and funds one or two years of study. Thirty-one Marshall Scholarships are awarded annually to American students who demonstrate potential to excel as scholars, as leaders, and as contributors to improved UK-US understanding.

In 1999, the George J. Mitchell Scholarships were established for American university students. This third competitive national scholarship program, supported by the Irish and British governments and other benefactors, honors former Senator George J. Mitchell for his contributions to the Northern Ireland peace process. The prestigious award allows Americans to pursue one year of post-graduate study in Ireland and Northern Ireland. Up to 12 George J. Mitchell Scholarships are awarded annually to students who have shown both academic distinction and the potential for leadership.

The Churchill Scholarship started in 1963 with three awards and has since grown to 14. It provides funding to American students for a year of Master's study in science, mathematics, and engineering at the University of Cambridge, based at Churchill College. The scholarship was set up at the request of Sir Winston Churchill in order to fulfil his vision of US-UK scientific exchange with the goal of advancing science and technology on both sides of the Atlantic, helping to ensure our future prosperity and security. The Churchill Scholarship has been called the most academically challenging of the UK scholarships. In total, thirteen students from Michigan have been named Churchill Scholars.

We proudly recognize the following students who were endorsed by the University of Michigan this year:

Marilu Duque Mitchell Recipient
School of Information

Jacob Florian Churchill Recipient
College of Engineering

Fareah Fysudeen Marshall Nominee
College of Literature, Science and the Arts

Amytess Girgis Rhodes Recipient

RAOUL WALLENBERG FELLOWSHIP

Inspired by the spirit of Raoul Wallenberg, the Wallenberg Fellowship is awarded in the spring of each year to a graduating senior of exceptional promise and accomplishment who is committed to service and the public good. The fellowship provides $25,000 to carry out an independent project of learning or exploration anywhere in the world during the year after graduation. The Fellow will engage in a self-designed and self-directed area of exploration or project of experiential learning. Through an active and immersive year-long experience, and by connecting in meaningful ways with the lives of other people and communities, the Wallenberg Fellow will prepare to make a difference in the world.

The Fellowship honors Raoul Wallenberg (B.S. Arch. '35), one of the most illustrious graduates of the University of Michigan. At U-M, Wallenberg was recognized for the excellence of his academic work, his eagerness for knowledge of the world and for understanding others, and for his intrepid independence and resourcefulness. He left Ann Arbor resolved to be actively engaged in life. Ten years later, as a Swedish diplomat during World War II, Wallenberg coordinated the rescue of tens of thousands of Jews in Budapest. He disappeared after he was arrested by Soviet authorities. One of the great heroes of the 20th century, Raoul Wallenberg shows that even under the most daunting circumstances, one person can make a difference.

The University of Michigan would like to express its deep appreciation to U-M parents Jon and Lili Bosse and U-M alumnus Bert Askwith (B.A. '31). Jon and Lilli Bosse's generous gift initiated the Wallenberg Fellowship in 2013. In 2014, Bert Askwith generously created the Mary Sue Coleman Endowed Fund for the Raoul Wallenberg Fellowship to support future generations of Michigan students who are inspired by Wallenberg's legacy, and to honor President Coleman's leadership during her tenure at U-M.

The Raoul Wallenberg Fellowship recipient this year is:

Darius Moore

College of Literature, Science and the Arts

Wallenberg Recipient

2021 THURNAU PROFESSORS

The Thurnau Professorships were established in 1988 to recognize and reward faculty for outstanding contributions to undergraduate education. The professorships honor tenured faculty members who, through their commitment and investment in undergraduate teaching, have had a positive impact on the intellectual development and lives of students.

Arthur F. Thurnau, for whom the Thurnau Professorship is named, attended the University of Michigan from fall of 1902 until spring of 1904. He studied a liberal arts curriculum, but he did not graduate. This was not uncommon for the time, and although his three brothers also attended the University of Michigan, only one of them graduated. In his two years here, Arthur completed 58 credits of French, German, history, English, rhetoric, politics, and economics. He also was a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity and sang in the Freshmen Glee Club.

Arthur later returned to Chicago, and worked as an “ad man,” selling advertising space in various magazines and newspapers. In this role, he eventually rose to the position of vice president and western manager for the firm Paul Block, Inc. He was actively involved in U-M alumni events in Chicago, even trying to arrange a football game between the Wolverines and the University of Chicago Maroons during that period of time when Chicago was part of the Big Ten Conference and Michigan was not. He also put his organizational talents to work during World War II by creating events to encourage the sale of government bonds.

Arthur Thurnau’s generosity to the University of Michigan began in 1966, and continued through the rest of his life. Upon his death in 1979, his estate created the Thurnau Charitable Trust to support the University of Michigan. Since 1988, these funds have been used to support the Thurnau Professorships. Thurnau Professors receive $20,000 grants to support activities that enhance teaching. It is this important recognition for faculty that Arthur F. Thurnau so generously provided for and that the University of Michigan celebrates. The University is pleased to recognize this year’s Thurnau Professors.

Branko Kerkez

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Associate Professor of Civil and Environmental Engineering
College of Engineering

Over the past five years, Professor Kerkez has founded an entirely new field in civil engineering and simultaneously created multiple points of engagement for undergraduate students in a modernized curriculum. His new section of ENGR 100, “Smart Water Systems” gives first-year students exciting opportunities to work with local city and county managers to deploy technology to solve water management challenges. Beyond the classroom, Professor Kerkez has advised 24 undergraduate research projects, and his “Hacker Space” teaching laboratory gives students access to all of the software and electronics needed to build advanced sensor systems that can reduce flooding and improve water quality. His commitment to open-source sharing of technology has led to collaborative projects with numerous partners outside the university, and the resulting testbeds provide plenty of real-world examples and data for new courses like “How Cities Work” and revised courses like “Probability and Statistics.” His productive integration of research and teaching has drawn multiple awards, and is informed by both his participation in a faculty teaching circle on student learning in large lectures and his service on the undergraduate retention and recruitment committee. Students also highly recommend Professor Kerkez’s skillful mentorship and career guidance. Says one, “He never pushed me to take a certain path, but worked with me to lay out all possible opportunities and ask probing questions to figure out my interests and reevaluate my long term goals.”

Sarah C. Koch

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Associate Professor of Mathematics
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Faculty and students use terms like “powerhouse,” “energy,” and “irrepressible force of nature” when describing Professor Koch’s award-winning contributions to mathematical education and community building at U-M and beyond. One example of her innovation can be seen in her creative pairing of a student competition to design a Michigan Math mug with a Math Club talk about the math underlying voting schemes and Arrow’s Theorem. Professor Koch offers extensive office hours each week: groups of students flock to the evening hours to work on difficult problems together, while one-on-one support prevails at morning hours. Over the past six years, she has vastly expanded efforts to engage U-M students and faculty in mathematics outreach programs for K-12 students in surrounding areas. These efforts both redress educational inequities and bring more diverse students to U-M. Her current role as the director of the notoriously challenging Honors Math sequence has made those classes a place of mutual respect. As one student says, it is “too easy for math to become a competition of cleverness and speed, and Professor Koch makes sure students know such attitudes have no place in her classes.” This welcoming attitude, along with her outreach and encouragement, has created a culture that shows undergraduates that the “mathematics community is a fun, vibrant, and magical place — it’s alive.”

Richard L. Lewis

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor

John R. Anderson Collegiate Professor of Psychology, Linguistics and Cognitive Sciences

Professor of Psychology

Professor of Linguistics

College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Since 2005, Professor Lewis has collaborated with faculty colleagues on creating programs that draw students into interdisciplinary quests to understand the human mind. A central figure in creating the cognitive science undergraduate major, he has directed the Weinberg Institute which houses it since 2017. Drawing on courses in Computer Science, Linguistics, Psychology, and Philosophy, the new program has become one of the top 15 majors in LSA in just six years. Remarkably, its growth has not drawn students away from existing majors. Instead, it is welcoming and empowering new students to explore these fields, especially women. In addition to playing administrative roles, Professor Lewis designed the major's gateway course, Cogsci 200, a unique feature of which is that students actually learn to use and apply advanced algorithms that are central to the field from the outset of their studies. Professor Lewis's innovations also include arranging central campus peer tutoring for particularly challenging computer science courses and exploring the human side of science by discussing the lives of scientists and the contributions of Michigan students and faculty to the field. The following student comment is typical, "I am leaving the course with a strong understanding of this field, pride in my school (shoutout to all of the incredible faculty and alumni that are pioneers in the field), and excitement for my future."

Stephen M. Ward

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor

Associate Professor of Afroamerican and African Studies

Associate Professor in the Residential College

College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

An award-winning teacher and program builder, Professor Ward has created unique learning environments for students to grapple with topics critical to understanding contemporary urban America. Colleagues point to the passion and contagious enthusiasm he has brought to the creation of the Urban Studies minor, including serving as its coordinator and advisor for 10 years. As the faculty director of the Semester in Detroit program and co-founder of the Detroiters Speak: Building Community Classroom project, Professor Ward has built academically rigorous, engaged learning programs that mutually benefit both students and community partners. His courses cover a broad array of subjects from African-American social movements and popular culture to archival and oral-history research methodologies. His students appreciate the way he leads them "to actively engage with history, to root it in real people and places, and to unearth its relevance to today." Not only do students work with primary source material in libraries and archives, they explore Detroit's geography and physical landscape, and they meet community members, leaders, performers, and educators. In addition, Professor Ward is a generous and accessible mentor and advisor to current and former students, and as the associate director of the Residential College, he advises colleagues on curricular topics and teaching practices. As one colleague writes, "the thoughtfulness of his approach to students and collaborators combine to have made a singular impact on undergraduate education at U-M and in surrounding communities."

M. Remi Yergeau

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor

Associate Professor of English Language and Literature

Associate Professor in the Digital Studies Institute

College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Multiple awards attest to Professor Yergeau's reputation as a dedicated and innovative teacher and mentor, as well as a visionary advocate for inclusion, diversity, equity, and accessibility. Working at the intersection of three disciplines—writing studies, digital studies, and disability studies—they teach eight unique courses that transform undergraduates' understanding of neurotypicality and accessibility. Their courses are thoughtfully designed to be accessible and inclusive, and to challenge students to explore the cultural, historical, literary, and experiential dimensions of disability, particularly neurodiversity and autism. For example, students who participate in a “blog carnival” write short analyses of blog entries by a range of authors on a specific theme, examining ways that current scholars and activists in the disability community frame that topic. Students embrace this media-based approach as a fresh means of studying a “modern field with new technology and communication methods.” Their years of activism and service on numerous committees have drawn much needed attention to accommodation and access issues that profoundly affect the daily lives of students. As a result of this fierce advocacy for spaces, policies, and practices, Professor Yergeau has made significant contributions to the success of a more diverse student body. A former student who is now a special education teacher writes of the lasting influence of learning how to “choose language that challenges harmful thinking and creates supports that allow for equal access to education.”

ACADEMIC DRESS AND CUSTOM

The colorful gowns and hoods worn by faculty members at commencement and other academic ceremonies represent the degrees, disciplines, and alma maters of the wearers. The American academic costume tradition, imported from England, dates to Colonial days.

Gowns

Bachelor's or master's degree gowns traditionally are black, as are many doctoral gowns in the United States. Some universities prescribe that their graduates wear gowns of another solid color such as blue, crimson, or green. Gowns differ in sleeve cut and trim. For example, the bachelor's gown has long, pointed sleeves while the master's gown has oblong sleeves. Doctoral gowns, with their distinctive bell-shaped sleeves, feature velvet panels down the front and around the neck, as well as crossbars of velvet on the sleeves. Colored trim denotes the field or discipline in which the degree was earned. Usually only a single degree from one institution is indicated by a garment. If more than one degree is held, the gown and hood of the higher or highest degree usually are worn.

Hoods

The hood most precisely describes the wearer's level of degree earned, the major field of learning, and the alma mater. The level of the degree held is indicated by the hood's shape and size and the width of its velvet or velveteen trimming. The bachelor's, master's, and doctor's hoods are 36 inches, 42 inches, and 48 inches long, respectively. The velvet trim is two, three, and five inches wide, with the narrowest being for the bachelor's hood and the widest for the doctor's hood. The color of trim on the hood, as on the gown, identifies the major field of learning in which the degree was awarded. The hood is lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree.

Caps

Caps vary in style from the traditional black mortarboard to eight-, six-, and four-corner tams, and Elizabethan-style caps. The mortarboard may be of any appropriate material, such as cotton, poplin, rayon, or silk, to match the gown. Velvet is reserved for holders of doctorates.

ACADEMIC COLORS

The colors of the various disciplines are as follows:

Architecture and Urban Planning	blue violet
Business Administration	drab
Dentistry	lilac
Education	light blue
Engineering	orange
Environment and Sustainability	russet
Fine Arts	brown
Information	lemon
Kinesiology	sage green
Law	purple
Literature and Arts	white
Medicine	green
Music	pink
Nursing	apricot
Pharmacy	olive green
Philosophy	dark blue
Public Health	salmon pink
Public Policy	peacock blue
Science	golden yellow
Social Work	citron

Mingled colors distinguish combined curriculums.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The University's mace is a symbol of academic scholarship, integrity, and authority. It is carried by the chair of the University Senate at the head of academic processions on such important ceremonial occasions as commencements, convocations, and inaugurations, representing the connection of all faculty members to important academic rituals. The mace being used today was given to the University in 1968 by the Senior Board, representing all the undergraduate schools and colleges. Crafted of red oak and trimmed with silver, the mace features the seals of the University and of the State of Michigan. Also engraved on the mace are the names of the University Presidents.

JAMES B. ANGELL SCHOLARS

Students who achieve an “A” record (all grades of A+, A, or A-) for two or more consecutive terms are recognized as James B. Angell Scholars. The student must have taken a minimum of 14 credit hours each term, including at least 12 credits elected on a graded (A-E) basis.

UNIVERSITY HONORS

The University Honors designation is awarded to students who earned a 3.5 grade point average or higher during a term. The student must have taken a minimum of 14 credit hours during the term, including at least 12 credits elected on a graded (A-E) basis. Students who achieve University Honors designation for both the winter 2020 term and fall 2020 term are recognized at Honors Convocation. Seniors who achieve University Honors for at least one of these two terms are recognized at Honors Convocation.

THE YELLOW AND BLUE

Sing to the colors that float in the light;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!

Yellow the stars as they ride thro' the night,
And reel in a rollicking crew;

Yellow the fields where ripens the grain,
And Yellow the moon on the harvest wain;

Hail!

Hail to the colors that float in the light;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!
