

99TH ANNUAL HONORS CONVOCATION

MARCH 20, 2022
2:00 PM
HILL AUDITORIUM

This year marks the 99th Honors Convocation held at the University of Michigan since the first was instituted on May 13, 1924, by President Marion LeRoy Burton. On these occasions, the University publicly recognizes and commends the undergraduate students in its schools and colleges who have earned distinguished academic records or have excelled as leaders in the community. It is with great pride that the University honors those students who have most clearly and effectively demonstrated academic excellence, dynamic leadership, and inspirational volunteerism. The Honors Convocation ranks with the Commencement Exercises as among the most important ceremonies of the University year.

The names of the students who are honored for outstanding achievement this year appear in this program. They include all students who have earned University Honors in both Winter 2021 and Fall 2021, plus all seniors who have earned University Honors in either Winter 2021 or Fall 2021. The William J. Branstrom Freshman Prize recipients are listed, as well – recognizing first year undergraduate students whose academic achievement during their first semester on campus place them in the upper five percent of their school or college class. James B. Angell Scholars – students who receive all “A” grades over consecutive terms – are given a special place in the program. In addition, the student speaker is recognized individually for exemplary contributions to the University community.

To all honored students, and to their parents, the University extends its hearty congratulations.

Susan M. Collins • Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs

Honored Students
Honored Faculty
Faculty Colleagues and Friends of the University

It is a pleasure to welcome you to the 99th University of Michigan Honors Convocation. On behalf of the academic leaders on the Ann Arbor, Dearborn, and Flint campuses, I thank you for joining us to honor our students.

The Honors Convocation is an important university tradition that recognizes and celebrates the outstanding academic achievements of undergraduate students from all three of our campuses.

We are proud to honor students who exemplify academic excellence. We recognize their intellectual curiosity and their dedication to thinking critically about the material they study. These students have demonstrated a passion for learning – challenging themselves, and their teachers, with tough questions and innovative ideas that stretch the boundaries of knowledge and open new pathways for exploration. They have also demonstrated impressive resilience, overcoming challenges caused by the pandemic to reach high levels of academic achievement. We are truly proud of them.

The University’s mission statement includes our commitment to “developing leaders who will challenge the present and enrich the future.” The students we honor today give life to that commitment through their purposeful engagement with the world.

We are also pleased to honor a group of distinguished faculty members who have joined us for this ceremony. Recently recognized by the University for their outstanding teaching and scholarship, they represent the many individuals in our community who inspire, challenge, and support our students.

As we congratulate our students, we also recognize, with deep appreciation, the parents, family members, and friends who have nurtured and supported them. The University of Michigan shares the pride you feel in their accomplishments. With you, we look forward to the contributions they will make to the future.

Congratulations and Welcome!

Sincerely,

Susan M. Collins

ORDER OF EXERCISES

The class of 2022 will be the last class to remember a full year of college before the arrival of the COVID-19 pandemic; however, this creates an interesting opportunity for students who have entered collegiate life within the past three years. As the nature of global communication, social identity, and civil advocacy continue to grow and change, how do we become "leaders and best" of moving our communities forward in an ethical way? In a world that promotes an every-person-for-themselves mindset, how do we use the skills that we have learned at the University of Michigan to better ourselves as well as the people around us?

We would like to thank Scott Piper, Norma L. Heyde Faculty Development Professor and Chair of Voice and Associate Professor of Music, School of Music, Theatre & Dance, for his expert assistance in choosing the student soloists for our ceremony.

HONORS CONVOCATION SPEAKERS

Connor Burke

Senior, College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Connor Burke, a senior from Spring Lake, Michigan, and a James B. Angell Scholar, is majoring in biochemistry with a minor in Spanish language, literature, and culture in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts.

Connor is vice president of external affairs and a member of the executive board of U-M Blood Drives United, a student-run organization that promotes, organizes, and staffs campus-wide blood drives, including the annual U-M/Ohio State University Blood Battle. Michigan, which collected 1,591 units, won the competition for the fourth consecutive year in 2021. Connor understands the power of transfusions. Diagnosed with acute lymphoblastic leukemia in 2019, blood transfusions helped him overcome fatigue and engage in normal activities. Although he can't donate because he has had a blood cancer, he strives to raise awareness of the ongoing need for blood through Blood Drives United and television and media interviews. Connor, a research intern at the Van Andel Institute in Grand Rapids, coauthored an article in the journal Blood and attended the American Society of Hematology 2021 annual meeting. He also is active in the Michigan Alpine Ski and Snowboard club team. Connor plans to graduate in December. His goal: To earn a M.D. degree and become a hematology oncologist.

Robert E. Megginson

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor

Professor of Mathematics

College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Professor Megginson, who joined the University of Michigan faculty in 1992, has received numerous campus and national awards for excellence in mathematics education, including being named a Thurnau Professor in 2008. Among other pedagogical contributions, he reformed math courses to emphasize real-world problem solving and cooperative learning. Deeply committed to attracting underrepresented students, particularly Native Americans, to mathematics and science, he led summer enrichment programs for students and educators at North Dakota's Turtle Mountain Chippewa reservation for many years. There, he linked math and Ojibwa culture, including patterns and symmetry in beading and laws of probability in the traditional games of his people, the Lakota Sioux. He holds a bachelor's degree in physics, a master's in statistics, and a doctorate in mathematics from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. His research interests include the geometry of Banach spaces and the mathematics of climate science. A former associate dean for undergraduate and graduate education in LSA, Professor Megginson is a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the American Mathematical Society. Among other honors, he received the U.S. Presidential Award for Excellence in Science, Mathematics, and Engineering Mentoring; the Mathematical Association of America Distinguished Service Award; and the American Indian Science and Engineering Society Ely S. Parker Award. He has been named to the Native American Science and Engineering Wall of Fame at Southwestern Indian Polytechnic Institute and is portrayed in the book 100 Native Americans Who Shaped American History.

RHODES, MARSHALL, AND CHURCHILL SCHOLARSHIPS

Rhodes, Marshall, and Churchill Scholarships are among the world's most prestigious academic awards for graduate students. Since the estate of British philanthropist Cecil John Rhodes established Rhodes Scholarships in 1904, dozens of University of Michigan alumni have studied as Rhodes Scholars at Oxford University. Thirty-two Americans are named Rhodes Scholars each year.

Marshall Scholarships, founded by an Act of Parliament in 1953, finance opportunities for young American scholars of high ability to study in the United Kingdom. The scholarship commemorates the humane ideals of the European Recovery Program (Marshall Plan) and funds one or two years of study. Thirty-one Marshall Scholarships are awarded annually to American students who demonstrate potential to excel as scholars, as leaders, and as contributors to improved UK-US understanding.

The Churchill Scholarship started in 1963 with three awards and has since grown to 14. It provides funding to American students for a year of Master's study in science, mathematics, and engineering at the University of Cambridge, based at Churchill College. The scholarship was set up at the request of Sir Winston Churchill in order to fulfill his vision of US-UK scientific exchange with the goal of advancing science and technology on both sides of the Atlantic, helping to ensure our future prosperity and security. The Churchill Scholarship has been called the most academically challenging of the UK scholarships. Over the years, several students from Michigan have been named Churchill Scholars.

We proudly recognize the following students who were endorsed by the University of Michigan this year:

Sophia Abusamra College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Rhodes Nominee
Connor Bradbury Ford School of Public Policy	Marshall Nominee
Cherish Dean College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Marshall Finalist; Rhodes Nominee
Julia Ebben College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Marshall Nominee
Noelle Gorka College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Rhodes Nominee

RAOUL WALLENBERG FELLOWSHIP

Inspired by the spirit of Raoul Wallenberg, the Wallenberg Fellowship is awarded in the spring of each year to a graduating senior of exceptional promise and accomplishment who is committed to service and the public good. The fellowship provides $25,000 to carry out an independent project of learning or exploration anywhere in the world during the year after graduation. The Fellow will engage in a self-designed and self-directed area of exploration or project of experiential learning. Through an active and immersive year-long experience, and by connecting in meaningful ways with the lives of other people and communities, the Wallenberg Fellow will prepare to make a difference in the world.

The Fellowship honors Raoul Wallenberg (B.S. Arch. '35), one of the most illustrious graduates of the University of Michigan. At U-M, Wallenberg was recognized for the excellence of his academic work, his eagerness for knowledge of the world and for understanding others, and for his intrepid independence and resourcefulness. He left Ann Arbor resolved to be actively engaged in life. Ten years later, as a Swedish diplomat during World War II, Wallenberg coordinated the rescue of tens of thousands of Jews in Budapest. He disappeared after he was arrested by Soviet authorities. One of the great heroes of the 20th century, Raoul Wallenberg shows that even under the most daunting circumstances, one person can make a difference.

The University of Michigan would like to express its deep appreciation to U-M parents Jon and Lili Bosse and U-M alumnus Bert Askwith (B.A. '13). Jon and Lilli Bosse's generous gift initiated the Wallenberg Fellowship in 2013. In 2014, Bert Askwith generously created the Mary Sue Coleman Endowed Fund for the Raoul Wallenberg Fellowship to support future generations of Michigan students who are inspired by Wallenberg's legacy, and to honor President Coleman's leadership during her tenure at U-M.

The Raoul Wallenberg Fellowship recipient this year is:

Chloe Hale

2022 THURNAU PROFESSORS

The Thurnau Professorships were established in 1988 to recognize and reward faculty for outstanding contributions to undergraduate education. The professorships honor tenured faculty members who, through their commitment and investment in undergraduate teaching, have had a positive impact on the intellectual development and lives of students.

Arthur F. Thurnau, for whom the Thurnau Professorship is named, attended the University of Michigan from fall of 1902 until spring of 1904. He studied a liberal arts curriculum, but he did not graduate. This was not uncommon for the time, and although his three brothers also attended the University of Michigan, only one of them graduated. In his two years here, Arthur completed 58 credits of French, German, history, English, rhetoric, politics, and economics. He also was a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity and sang in the Freshmen Glee Club.

Arthur later returned to Chicago, and worked as an “ad man,” selling advertising space in various magazines and newspapers. In this role, he eventually rose to the position of vice president and western manager for the firm Paul Block, Inc. He was actively involved in U-M alumni events in Chicago, even trying to arrange a football game between the Wolverines and the University of Chicago Maroons during that period of time when Chicago was part of the Big Ten Conference and Michigan was not. He also put his organizational talents to work during World War II by creating events to encourage the sale of government bonds.

Arthur Thurnau’s generosity to the University of Michigan began in 1966, and continued through the rest of his life. Upon his death in 1979, his estate created the Thurnau Charitable Trust to support the University of Michigan. Since 1988, these funds have been used to support the Thurnau Professorships. Thurnau Professors receive $20,000 grants to support activities that enhance teaching. It is this important recognition for faculty that Arthur F. Thurnau so generously provided for and that the University of Michigan celebrates. The University is pleased to recognize this year’s Thurnau Professors.

Bart M. Bartlett

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Professor of Chemistry
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

An outstanding instructor and a winner of numerous teaching awards, Professor Bartlett creates collaborative spaces for learning and treats students as peers undertaking scientific discovery in solar energy conversion, alternatives fuels, and next-generation batteries. Impressively, nearly half of the undergraduate students mentored in his lab (14 of 32) have been co-authors on peer-reviewed publications. His chair notes that “Professor Bartlett emphasizes that learning to ask stimulating questions is of much greater value than simply getting right answers.” His innovations to the large introductory chemistry course taken by thousands of first-year STEM students similarly support their direct and equitable engagement with course content. Converting lecture and discussion sections to small group problem-solving sessions lets students thoroughly discuss and refine their understanding of concepts as they tackle new applications. Changing the sequence of study from “reactions first” to “atoms first” puts students on a more equal footing, mitigating variations in high school preparation, as they explore concepts like atomic structure and chemical bonding before reviewing the math required to balance reaction equations. Professor Bartlett also strives to make the pathway to a chemistry degree more equitable outside the classroom. As the associate director for the U-M Energy Institute from 2014-2019, he increased the proportion of women and students from minoritized groups who participated in the 10-week summer research programs. In addition to building community through service as a faculty facilitator of a first-year learning community, he has hosted eight Detroit high school students through the D-RISE program.

Amy G. Chavasse

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Professor of Dance
School of Music, Theatre & Dance

Professor Chavasse is an internationally celebrated dance artist who uses improvisation to explore social issues and the nature of creativity. From Improvisation Jams that encourage play, to foundational technique and composition classes, as well as through interdisciplinary courses like UARTS 250: Creative Process, Professor Chavasse makes spaces for dance majors and non-majors to engage in the vulnerable work of understanding how their bodies move through the world. In the process, students learn that “a life in art-making can be a meaningful and needed way to be in conversation with the most important challenges of our time.” They also appreciate that she is honest with her words and generous with her time, consistently showing up to rehearsals and performances and providing feedback. Her mentorship does not end with graduation, and she devotes significant time to creating new opportunities for performance and collaboration, including the first study abroad program for dance students in Spain. Professor Chavasse has served on several university committees and initiatives focused on curricular innovations. While she has long demonstrated a commitment to serving students of diverse backgrounds, she has spent the last two years intensively incorporating anti-racist pedagogies and culturally relevant teaching into her courses. A student dancer of color described the impact these efforts had on her experience at U-M: “Professor Chavasse makes me feel like I have a place in the dance world and one in which I can create art outside of the normative framework of dance.”

Shanna Daly

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Associate Professor of Mechanical Engineering
College of Engineering

Multiple awards for teaching and for best papers at engineering education conferences underline the many ways that Professor Daly is making the field of engineering more welcoming to a wide range of students who want to solve important problems faced by people around the world. Greater proportions of women and students with non-majority identities, in particular, seek out her courses because they unite training in technical engineering with opportunities to develop a skill set that emphasizes creativity and socially engaged design. Through a deeper understanding of people and context, students in her classes learn to build engineering solutions that successfully meet people's needs. As someone who conducts empirical research on engineering education methods and tools, Professor Daly has been able to document the effectiveness of her active, collaborative, and inclusive learning approaches and thus to encourage their adoption by other faculty at U-M and beyond. For example, her 77 Design Heuristics tool greatly increases the quantity, diversity, and quality of students' design ideas, and the tool is now used across campus in the Schools of Art & Design, Information, and Business, as well as by other engineering education programs nationally and internationally. One student notes that "Improving on diversity, equity, and inclusion is one of the biggest challenges in engineering education, and Professor Daly's ability to allow students to be all of themselves gets at the core of the challenge: to add value and be valued."

Priti R. Shah

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Professor of Psychology
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts
Professor of Information
School of Information
Professor of Educational Psychology
School of Education

A superbly talented, effective, and dedicated teacher, Professor Shah has earned many accolades for her teaching and mentoring of students. Her course for first-year students on Psychological Perspectives on the College Experience introduces them to different methods of social science research. They read empirical studies and review articles about topics that will help them make the most of their years at U-M, such as the effect of sleep on grades. Strikingly, none of her courses use textbooks; instead she selects scholarly and popular publications that showcase current work and support deeper thinking about material. Her students are always actively engaged in learning, whether responding to clicker questions in large lectures or developing presentation skills in smaller seminars. Outside the classroom, Professor Shah typically mentors 6-12 undergraduates who are fully included in her lab's research on the cognition of education and learning. After observing a lack of diversity among students while directing the psychology honors program, she created STAR (Students Tackling Advanced Research) to fill the pipeline. The program acquaints 28-30 students each year with the real-world impact of psychology research. This includes workshops and tools that get undergraduates involved in the research process, as well as one-on-one mentoring from PhD students. Last year, 100% of the students met the criteria used for Rackham Merit Fellowships. A STAR scholar writes, "I was a high achieving junior with no idea how to navigate from school to my ideal career. Professor Shah has provided invaluable support to me as an ambitious but not-well-connected student."

Amy K. Stillman

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Professor of American Culture
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts
Professor of Musicology
School of Music, Theatre & Dance

Professor Stillman is an extraordinarily effective teacher and mentor whose courses focus on Asian and Pacific Islander American (APIA) cultural performances, media representations, and Indigenous music and dance forms, particularly those of Hawai'i. Bridging scholarship and performance, she meets students at their point of interest and passion, and brings them through the study of a field specifically through their experience of performance. A winner of two Grammy Awards and a world authority on hula, Professor Stillman has developed signature courses that draw students from STEM disciplines, as well as the arts and humanities. For example, in AMCULT 372: The Hula, students combine dance with reflective journaling, study Hawaiian-language meles (songs and poetic texts), and build toward a live performance. In the process, they learn how the hula tradition enacts cultural knowledge and stereotypes through bodies, as well as minds. "I witnessed a generous, inclusive practice of bringing students into a deeper understanding of Hawaiian culture," says a former student who is now an associate professor. At the same time, writes the department chair, Stillman also "urges students to grapple with nuanced scholarship and critical conversations about diversity in ways that have proved to be deeply productive in their thinking about race, power, and identity." The ethnic studies minor that Professor Stillman designed in 2003 has served as a model for all other minors in the department, and under her visionary leadership, the A/PIA Studies Program at U-M has been emulated across the country.

ACADEMIC DRESS AND CUSTOM

The colorful gowns and hoods worn by faculty members at commencement and other academic ceremonies represent the degrees, disciplines, and alma maters of the wearers. The American academic costume tradition, imported from England, dates to Colonial days.

Gowns

Bachelor's or master's degree gowns traditionally are black, as are many doctoral gowns in the United States. Some universities prescribe that their graduates wear gowns of another solid color such as blue, crimson, or green. Gowns differ in sleeve cut and trim. For example, the bachelor's gown has long, pointed sleeves while the master's gown has oblong sleeves. Doctoral gowns, with their distinctive bell-shaped sleeves, feature velvet panels down the front and around the neck, as well as crossbars of velvet on the sleeves. Colored trim denotes the field or discipline in which the degree was earned. Usually only a single degree from one institution is indicated by a garment. If more than one degree is held, the gown and hood of the higher or highest degree usually are worn.

Hoods

The hood most precisely describes the wearer's level of degree earned, the major field of learning, and the alma mater. The level of the degree held is indicated by the hood's shape and size and the width of its velvet or velveteen trimming. The bachelor's, master's, and doctor's hoods are 36 inches, 42 inches, and 48 inches long, respectively. The velvet trim is two, three, and five inches wide, with the narrowest being for the bachelor's hood and the widest for the doctor's hood. The color of trim on the hood, as on the gown, identifies the major field of learning in which the degree was awarded. The hood is lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree.

Caps

Caps vary in style from the traditional black mortarboard to eight-, six-, and four-corner tams, and Elizabethan-style caps. The mortarboard may be of any appropriate material, such as cotton, poplin, rayon, or silk, to match the gown. Velvet is reserved for holders of doctorates.

MARSHALS OF THE UNIVERSITY

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The University's mace is a symbol of academic scholarship, integrity, and authority. It is carried by the chair of the University Senate at the head of academic processions on such important ceremonial occasions as commencements, convocations, and inaugurations, representing the connection of all faculty members to important academic rituals. The mace being used today was given to the University in 1968 by the Senior Board, representing all the undergraduate schools and colleges. Crafted of red oak and trimmed with silver, the mace features the seals of the University and of the State of Michigan. Also engraved on the mace are the names of the University Presidents.

JAMES B. ANGELL SCHOLARS

Students who achieve an “A” record (all grades of A+, A, or A-) for two or more consecutive terms are recognized as James B. Angell Scholars. The student must have taken a minimum of 14 credit hours each term, including at least 12 credits elected on a graded (A-E) basis.

UNIVERSITY HONORS

The University Honors designation is awarded to students who earned a 3.5 grade point average or higher during a term. The student must have taken a minimum of 14 credit hours during the term, including at least 12 credits elected on a graded (A-E) basis. Students who achieve University Honors designation for both the winter 2021 term and fall 2021 term are recognized at Honors Convocation. Seniors who achieve University Honors for at least one of these two terms are recognized at Honors Convocation.

THE YELLOW AND BLUE

Sing to the colors that float in the light;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!

Yellow the stars as they ride thro' the night,
And reel in a rollicking crew;

Yellow the fields where ripens the grain,
And Yellow the moon on the harvest wain;

Hail!

Hail to the colors that float in the light;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!
