

103RD ANNUAL HONORS CONVOCATION

MARCH 29, 2026
2:00 PM
HILL AUDITORIUM

This year marks the 103rd Honors Convocation held at the University of Michigan since the first was instituted on May 13, 1924, by President Marion LeRoy Burton. On these occasions, the University publicly recognizes and commends the undergraduate students in its schools and colleges who have earned distinguished academic records or have excelled as leaders in the community. It is with great pride that the University honors those students who have most clearly and effectively demonstrated academic excellence, dynamic leadership, and inspirational volunteerism. The Honors Convocation ranks with the Commencement Exercises as among the most important ceremonies of the University year.

The names of the students who are honored for outstanding achievement this year appear in this program. They include all students who have earned University Honors in both Winter 2025 and Fall 2025, plus all seniors who have earned University Honors in either Winter 2025 or Fall 2025. The William J. Branstrom Freshman Prize recipients are listed, as well – recognizing first year undergraduate students whose academic achievement during their first semester on campus places them in the upper five percent of their school or college class. James B. Angell Scholars – students who receive all “A” grades over consecutive terms – are given a special place in the program. In addition, the student speaker is recognized individually for exemplary contributions to the University community.

To all honored students, and to their families, the University extends its hearty congratulations.

Laurie K. McCauley • Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs

Honored Students
Honored Faculty
Faculty Colleagues and Friends of the University

Thank you for joining us for the University of Michigan's 103rd Honors Convocation.

It is a pleasure to welcome you as we recognize the outstanding academic performance of students from our Ann Arbor, Dearborn, and Flint campuses. Our 2026 honorees have distinguished themselves academically. At Michigan, this requires great focus and a sense of one's future goals – but even those traits are not sufficient on their own. To be at this ceremony requires boundless curiosity, about the world and one another, and above all, humility: the willingness to open the mind, cross boundaries, and think differently. We are privileged to gather so many students meeting this high bar in the same place today.

This ceremony celebrates a vision of academic excellence that is quintessentially Michigan — rooted in humility, thoughtfulness, and a reflexive instinct to seek out a wide spectrum of voices. The students we honor have embraced difficult questions this academic year. They grew by challenging assumptions and dissecting conventional wisdom. Their tenacity helps ensure that U-M continues to thrive as a place where ideas are shared, debated, and defined by collaboration.

Across our campuses, many of these students have played instrumental roles outside the classroom. Through their research and service, they have engaged each other, supported communities, and applied what they've learned with a profound ownership and eagerness to boldly confront society's most urgent issues.

No one reaches a moment like this alone. Each step of the way, our world-class faculty have provided the guidance and mentorship necessary to create truly life-changing education. Their commitment to teaching and discovery fueled this year's achievements, which in turn honors the partnership between educators and students at the core of U-M's academic mission.

We are especially grateful to the families, friends, and loved ones whose support made today possible. Your solidarity and encouragement have been essential to every success we recognize. Honors Convocation is not only an academic milestone in the lives of those you are here to support; it is also a celebration of your own commitments, sacrifices, and the role you have played in the excellence on display today.

Congratulations to each of our honorees. You have earned this moment through dedication, creativity, and a strong sense of purpose. Your superlative academic performance is an inspiring reminder of what makes universities such vibrant places to live and learn.

Sincerely,

Laurie K. McCauley
Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs

ORDER OF EXERCISES

Lead With Humility

At Michigan, we strive to achieve at the highest possible level as leaders and best. We also recognize that the mark of a true leader is the ability to embrace humility, remain open-minded, and express empathy. Good leaders give voice to others.

We are grateful to the Provost's Council for Student Honors for its role in planning this event. Council members include: Mustapha Beleh, Frank J. Ascione Collegiate Teaching Professor, Lecturer IV in Medicinal Chemistry, College of Pharmacy; Gregory Laurence, Professor of Management, Department of Management Chair, Department of Management and Marketing School of Management, the University of Michigan-Flint; Ashley Lucas, Professor of Theatre and Drama, School of Music, Theatre & Dance, Professor in the Residential College, Professor of English Language and Literature, College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, Professor of Art and Design, Penny W Stamps School of Art & Design; Katherine Michelmore, Associate Professor of Public Policy, Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy, Faculty Associate, Population Studies Center, Institute for Social Research; DeLean Tolbert Smith, Associate Professor of Industrial and Manufacturing Systems Engineering, College of Engineering and Computer Science, the University of Michigan-Dearborn; Herbert Winful, University Diversity and Social Transformation Professor, Joseph E. and Anne P. Rowe Professor of Electrical Engineering, Arthur F. Thurnau Professor, Professor of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science, College of Engineering, Professor of Physics, College of Literature, Science, and the Arts. The Council is sponsored by Vice Provost Angela Dillard and coordinated by Assistant Vice Provost Deborah Willis and Executive Assistant Marionette Cano.

This year's theme "Lead With Humility" was submitted by Sonya Shelgikar, Sophomore, School of Kinesiology, 3 Term Angell Scholar and University Honors

We would like to thank Stephen West, Chair of Voice & Opera and Professor of Music, School of Music, Theatre & Dance, for his expert assistance in choosing the student soloists for our ceremony.

Those who are able are asked to stand for portions of the program asterisked (). At the conclusion of the program, the audience will please remain standing until the platform party has left the auditorium.

HONORS CONVOCATION SPEAKERS

Michael Saleeby

Sophomore, Stephen M. Ross School of Business
3 Term Angell Scholar and University Honors

Michael (Mich) Saleeby is a sophomore at the Stephen M. Ross School of Business pursuing a Bachelor of Business Administration with a concentration in finance and minors in statistics and human-centered artificial intelligence. He is a James B. Angell Scholar, William J. Branstrom Freshman Prize recipient, and Arab America 20 Under 20 honoree. On campus, he is the VP of Recruitment for Wolverine Capital Investments, the VP of Events for the Michigan Private Credit Group, the VP of External Relations for the Arab Business Society, and a founder and national board member of the Arab Finance Society. His professional experience includes corporate finance internships at Abu Dhabi Capital Group in the UAE and at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, MA. He aims to work in finance after graduating in 2028. Additionally, Saleeby is an accomplished trumpet player, having earned three classical international gold medals (at the Carnegie Hall, Washington, D.C., and Pacific Basin International Music Festivals) and four national collegiate-level jazz awards.

Arthur Verhoogt

Arthur F. Thurnau Professor
Associate Dean for Humanities
Department of Classical Studies
College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Arthur Verhoogt is the Associate Dean for Humanities and Arthur F. Thurnau Professor and Professor of Papyrology and Greek in the Department of Classical Studies. His publications include editions of papyri and ostraca, and studies in the social, economic, and cultural history of Hellenistic and Roman Egypt. Verhoogt's work explores the archaeologies of writing in ancient Egyptian villages through the study of legacy data from the University of Michigan excavations at ancient Karanis (1924-1935). Verhoogt earned his BA (1990) and PhD (1997) from Leiden University, in the Netherlands, and he joined Michigan's faculty in 2001, following his tenure as a research fellow of the Leiden Papyrological Institute (1990-2000) and as a consultant for the Advanced Papyrological Information System project at the University of California Berkeley (1996-2000). In 2018, his book "Discarded, Discovered, Collected" won the U-M Press Book Award, and Verhoogt has received research grants from the American Council of Learned Societies and the Netherlands Institute for Advanced Studies.

RHODES, MARSHALL, AND CHURCHILL SCHOLARSHIPS

Rhodes, Marshall, and Churchill Scholarships are among the world's most prestigious academic awards for graduate students. Since the estate of British philanthropist Cecil John Rhodes established Rhodes Scholarships in 1904, dozens of University of Michigan alumni have studied as Rhodes Scholars at Oxford University. Thirty-two Americans are named Rhodes Scholars each year.

Marshall Scholarships, founded by an Act of Parliament in 1953, finance opportunities for young American scholars of high ability to study in the United Kingdom. The scholarship commemorates the humane ideals of the European Recovery Program (Marshall Plan) and funds one or two years of study. Thirty-one Marshall Scholarships are awarded annually to American students who demonstrate potential to excel as scholars, as leaders, and as contributors to improved UK-US understanding.

The Churchill Scholarship started in 1963 with three awards and has since grown to 14. It provides funding to American students for a year of Master's study in science, mathematics, and engineering at the University of Cambridge, based at Churchill College. The scholarship was set up at the request of Sir Winston Churchill in order to fulfill his vision of US-UK scientific exchange with the goal of advancing science and technology on both sides of the Atlantic, helping to ensure our future prosperity and security. The Churchill Scholarship has been called the most academically challenging of the UK scholarships. Over the years, several students from Michigan have been named Churchill Scholars.

We proudly recognize the following students who were endorsed by the University of Michigan this year:

Henry Baratz College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Marshall Nominee
Yumna Dagher Alum '25 College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Rhodes Recipient
Yasmine Elkharsa Alum '24 Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy	Marshall and Rhodes Nominee
Jenna Ference-Salo College of Engineering	Churchill Nominee
Rijul Mehta College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Churchill Nominee
Josh Moss Alum '25 College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Marshall Nominee and Rhodes Finalist
Christian Potts College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Marshall and Rhodes Nominee
Liam Reaser College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Marshall and Rhodes Nominee
Shuyan Tang Alum '25 College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Marshall and Rhodes Finalist
Nolan Tribu College of Engineering	Marshall Nominee
Steven Zanetti College of Literature, Science, and the Arts	Marshall Nominee

RAOUL WALLENBERG FELLOWSHIP

Inspired by the spirit of Raoul Wallenberg, the Wallenberg Fellowship is awarded in the spring of each year to a graduating senior of exceptional promise and accomplishment who is committed to service and the public good. The fellowship provides $25,000 to carry out an independent project of learning or exploration anywhere in the world during the year after graduation. The Fellow will engage in a self-designed and self-directed area of exploration or project of experiential learning. Through an active and immersive year-long experience, and by connecting in meaningful ways with the lives of other people and communities, the Wallenberg Fellow will prepare to make a difference in the world.

The Fellowship honors Raoul Wallenberg (B.S. Arch. '35), one of the most illustrious graduates of the University of Michigan. At U-M, Wallenberg was recognized for the excellence of his academic work, his eagerness for knowledge of the world and for understanding others, and for his intrepid independence and resourcefulness. He left Ann Arbor resolved to be actively engaged in life. Ten years later, as a Swedish diplomat during World War II, Wallenberg coordinated the rescue of tens of thousands of Jews in Budapest. He disappeared after he was arrested by Soviet authorities. One of the great heroes of the 20th century, Raoul Wallenberg shows that even under the most daunting circumstances, one person can make a difference.

The University of Michigan would like to express its deep appreciation to U-M parents Jon and Lili Bosse and U-M alumnus Bert Askwith (B.A. '31). Jon and Lilli Bosse's generous gift initiated the Wallenberg Fellowship in 2013. In 2014, Bert Askwith generously created the Mary Sue Coleman Endowed Fund for the Raoul Wallenberg Fellowship to support future generations of Michigan students who are inspired by Wallenberg's legacy, and to honor President Coleman's leadership during her tenure at U-M.

The Raoul Wallenberg Fellowship recipient this year is:

Lukas Nepomuceno

2026 THURNAU PROFESSORS

The Thurnau Professorships were established in 1988 to recognize and reward faculty for outstanding contributions to undergraduate education. The professorships honor tenured faculty members who, through their commitment and investment in undergraduate teaching, have had a positive impact on the intellectual development and lives of students.

Arthur F. Thurnau, for whom the Thurnau Professorship is named, attended the University of Michigan from fall of 1902 until spring of 1904. He studied a liberal arts curriculum, but he did not graduate. This was not uncommon for the time, and although his three brothers also attended the University of Michigan, only one of them graduated. In his two years here, Arthur completed 58 credits of French, German, history, English, rhetoric, politics, and economics. He also was a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity and sang in the Freshmen Glee Club.

Arthur later returned to Chicago, and worked as an “ad man,” selling advertising space in various magazines and newspapers. In this role, he eventually rose to the position of vice president and western manager for the firm Paul Block, Inc. He was actively involved in U-M alumni events in Chicago, even trying to arrange a football game between the Wolverines and the University of Chicago Maroons during that period of time when Chicago was part of the Big Ten Conference and Michigan was not. He also put his organizational talents to work during World War II by creating events to encourage the sale of government bonds.

Arthur Thurnau’s generosity to the University of Michigan began in 1966, and continued through the rest of his life. Upon his death in 1979, his estate created the Thurnau Charitable Trust to support the University of Michigan. Since 1988, these funds have been used to support the Thurnau Professorships. Thurnau Professors receive $20,000 grants to support activities that enhance teaching. It is this important recognition for faculty that Arthur F. Thurnau so generously provided for and that the University of Michigan celebrates. The University is pleased to recognize this year’s Thurnau Professors.

Meghan A. Duffy

Susan S. Kilham Collegiate Professor of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology, and Professor of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology, College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Professor Duffy's multi-faceted contributions to undergraduate education at U-M are of a scale, depth, innovativeness, and impact that are truly exceptional. She led the overhaul of Biology 171, "Introduction to Ecology and Evolution," creating an active, student-centered environment that supports deep learning for a highly diverse cohort. Her department chair calls her a fearless innovator who consults the pedagogical literature to identify the most effective teaching strategies, collaborates with colleagues to implement them, and then gathers and analyzes the data needed to assess their effectiveness. In the new flipped format, students practice solving problems during lecture, and they are demonstrating higher order conceptual thinking on exams. Enrollment tripled in her upper-division course, EEB 315, "Ecology and Evolution of Infectious Disease," where students develop proficiency in both reading scientific primary literature and communicating effectively about it. Professor Duffy's commitment to student success includes her mentorship of over 100 undergraduates in research, more than half from underrepresented groups, and her ability to create supportive communities where students feel valued. As one student reports, "I found myself going from someone who was genuinely struggling in BIO 171, to someone who was excited to take EEB 315, and now feels confident in my abilities as a student and as a future scientist." Her impact extends beyond the classroom to curriculum reform undertaken as the associate chair for undergraduate studies, mentorship of new colleagues, as well as advocacy across U-M for student mental health and wellbeing.

Cynthia J. Finelli

David C. Munson Jr Collegiate Professor of Engineering, Professor of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science, College of Engineering, and Professor of Education, Marsal Family School of Education

An internationally renowned leader in engineering education research (EER), Professor Finelli has a reputation for generating pedagogical research, implementing findings into her own courses, and mentoring colleagues across the college and beyond U-M to do the same. She has led, collaborated on, or supervised numerous NSF-funded EER projects. She investigated how undergraduate students' background characteristics influence college knowledge and out-of-class involvement, and how those factors affect academic success. Her work also ranges from examining the classroom experiences of neurodiverse students, to documenting the effects of flexible, active learning classrooms on faculty pedagogy and student behavior. In addition to publishing practical guidance for increasing the effectiveness of engineering teaching, she has organized teaching circles and communities of practice where instructors can support each other as they revise courses to include evidence-based approaches. In her own courses, Professor Finelli makes complex technical content accessible and meaningful by connecting theory to real-world, human-centered issues and integrating content on social responsibility, ethical reasoning, and contemporary global challenges. Students particularly praise her repurposing of lecture and discussion section time for active problem-solving with instructors on hand to answer questions. They also appreciate how she acknowledges the different backgrounds and experiences that students bring and articulates the ways that diversity adds value to the classroom. Her institutional leadership as the founding director of CRLT in Engineering, and of the college's Engineering Education Research Program in 2015, has empowered thousands of students to succeed as ethical engineers and faculty to thrive as effective educators.

Sol S. Hart

Professor of Communication and Media, College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, Professor of Program in the Environment, School for Environment and Sustainability and College of Literature, Science, and the Arts and Faculty Associate, Research Center for Group Dynamics, Institute for Social Research

Professor Hart's creative teaching and departmental leadership transformed both curriculum and culture in the Department of Communication and Media. As the associate chair for undergraduate studies, Professor Hart restructured the major by streamlining transfer-credit policy and instituting a new peer-advising program and an annual undergraduate survey that gives students a voice in program decisions. These changes have improved time to degree and made the program more navigable and humane, particularly for transfer students and those coming from under-resourced high schools. He also significantly strengthened undergraduate research pathways and increased the number of strategic communication courses available. His redesign of COMM 102 shifted a large lecture course to a hybrid, active-learning model, improving equity in measurable ways. In the process, he created structures and documentation that have enabled entire teams of instructors to successfully carry on these new approaches in succeeding iterations of the course. He integrates real-world issues and provides opportunities for interdisciplinary collaboration and practical skill-building, and students consistently praise his courses as "energetic, inclusive, and life-changing," noting that his mentorship has inspired them to pursue careers in environmental justice, law, and public engagement. Professor Hart has introduced the use of applied improvisation as a tool to scaffold vulnerability, build trust, foster inclusion, and create playful, yet rigorous learning environments. This approach boosts students' listening skills and improves their ability to understand opposing perspectives, turning disagreement into meaningful dialogue. His methods now inform workshops and peer facilitator training campus-wide.

Nancy Ambrose King

Professor of Music, School of Music, Theatre & Dance

Professor King is an internationally recognized oboe soloist and pedagogue who has built Michigan into a premier destination for oboe study. Both as a performer and as a commissioner of new works, often from underrepresented composers, she has greatly expanded the realm of possibilities envisioned for the oboe. She also creates new opportunities for students, like the Norma Hooks Young Artist Competition for emerging oboists that she established while serving as the president of the International Double Reed Society. As a teacher, Professor King encourages students to develop their own unique expressive voice, transcend technical limitations, and create engaging, stylistically appropriate musical performances. Students graduate from her studio as thoughtful, analytical musicians with thorough knowledge of the oboe's repertoire, pedagogy, and historical context. She has a remarkable ability to turn high artistic standards into concrete, achievable steps for undergraduates, and she creates environments where students feel respected, challenged and supported, essential conditions for genuine artistic risk-taking and growth. Her students routinely succeed at the highest levels, earning prizes, solo and chamber appointments, and faculty positions worldwide. Over four decades, her rigorous yet compassionate teaching has shaped generations of artists and educators who now shape music programs across the country. Her mentorship is lifelong, and students who pursue careers outside of music performance also speak highly of her guidance and genuine celebration of their accomplishments. She seamlessly combines world-class artistry, innovative pedagogy, tireless advocacy, and genuine devotion to student success.

Thomas A. Schwarz

Associate Chair, Department of Physics and Professor of Physics, College of Literature, Science, and the Arts

Professor Schwarz is both a nationally recognized experimental particle physicist and a driving force for new teaching methodologies, curricular modernization, and access to research and internship opportunities. He introduced a studio format for Physics 240, "Introductory Electricity and Magnetism" that dramatically increased student engagement, equity, and achievement, and then did the same for Physics 140, the introductory mechanics course. His chair credits him with changing students' attitudes toward their ability to learn the material in these high-enrollment, gateway courses. In both courses, small groups of students spend time in class working through problems with support from a team of undergraduate learning assistants. His new, hybrid version of Physics 140 combines asynchronous lectures with face-to-face sessions, alleviating waitlist backlogs and improving time to degree by ensuring students can enroll in the course when they need it. Professor Schwarz has directly mentored more than 30 undergraduates in his research group. As the inaugural undergraduate research coordinator, he significantly expanded access by launching two new programs, one to facilitate paid summer research positions, and one to match students to internships in industry. As the associate chair, he worked with the Society of Physics students as a sounding board to adjust curriculum sequencing to welcome students who discovered a passion for the field later in their undergraduate study. His efforts have empowered countless students, including transfer students and those from nontraditional backgrounds, to find belonging and success in physics.

ACADEMIC DRESS AND CUSTOM

The colorful gowns and hoods worn by faculty members at commencement and other academic ceremonies represent the degrees, disciplines, and alma maters of the wearers. The American academic costume tradition, imported from England, dates to Colonial days.

Gowns

Bachelor's or master's degree gowns traditionally are black, as are many doctoral gowns in the United States. Some universities prescribe that their graduates wear gowns of another solid color such as blue, crimson, or green. Gowns differ in sleeve cut and trim. For example, the bachelor's gown has long, pointed sleeves while the master's gown has oblong sleeves. Doctoral gowns, with their distinctive bell-shaped sleeves, feature velvet panels down the front and around the neck, as well as crossbars of velvet on the sleeves. Colored trim denotes the field or discipline in which the degree was earned. Usually only a single degree from one institution is indicated by a garment. If more than one degree is held, the gown and hood of the higher or highest degree usually are worn.

Hoods

The hood most precisely describes the wearer's level of degree earned, the major field of learning, and the alma mater. The level of the degree held is indicated by the hood's shape and size and the width of its velvet or velveteen trimming. The bachelor's, master's, and doctor's hoods are 36 inches, 42 inches, and 48 inches long, respectively. The velvet trim is two, three, and five inches wide, with the narrowest being for the bachelor's hood and the widest for the doctor's hood. The color of trim on the hood, as on the gown, identifies the major field of learning in which the degree was awarded. The hood is lined with the official colors of the college or university conferring the degree.

Caps

Caps vary in style from the traditional black mortarboard to eight-, six-, and four-corner tams, and Elizabethan-style caps. The mortarboard may be of any appropriate material, such as cotton, poplin, rayon, or silk, to match the gown. Velvet is reserved for holders of doctorates.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The University's mace is a symbol of academic scholarship, integrity, and authority. It is carried by the chair of the University Senate at the head of academic processions on such important ceremonial occasions as commencements, convocations, and inaugurations, representing the connection of all faculty members to important academic rituals. The mace being used today was given to the University in 1968 by the Senior Board, representing all the undergraduate schools and colleges. Crafted of red oak and trimmed with silver, the mace features the seals of the University and of the State of Michigan. Also engraved on the mace are the names of the University Presidents.

JAMES B. ANGELL SCHOLARS

Students who achieve an “A” record (all grades of A+, A, or A-) for two or more consecutive terms are recognized as James B. Angell Scholars. The student must have taken a minimum of 14 credit hours each term, including at least 12 credits elected on a graded (A-E) basis.

UNIVERSITY HONORS

The University Honors designation is awarded to students who earned a 3.5 grade point average or higher during a term. The student must have taken a minimum of 14 credit hours during the term, including at least 12 credits elected on a graded (A-E) basis. Students who achieve University Honors designation for both the winter 2025 term and fall 2025 term are recognized at Honors Convocation. Seniors who achieve University Honors for at least one of these two terms are recognized at Honors Convocation.

THE YELLOW AND BLUE

Sing to the colors that float in the light;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!

Yellow the stars as they ride thro' the night,
And reel in a rollicking crew;

Yellow the fields where ripens the grain,
And Yellow the moon on the harvest wain;

Hail!

Hail to the colors that float in the light;
Hurrah for the Yellow and Blue!
